

GERMAN CRUISER SEEKS HAVEN IN AMERICAN PORT

Newport News, Va., March 10.—The German auxiliary cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich, another of the elusive German sea rovers which have been destroying commerce of the allies on the seven seas, slipped into port here early today, presumably eluding the British and French cruisers along the coast, in need of repairs, coal and provisions for her crew and with more than 300 prisoners taken from prizes.

Last night after dark the German ship appeared off Cape Henry, but did not enter until after day-light when she passed quarantine and dropped anchor at this port. All her officers preserved the strictest silence and her captain at once dispatched a message telling of his arrival and the condition of his ship to the German embassy at Washington.

No sooner had the Prinz Eitel anchored than the United States coast guard ship Quonago went alongside to take up her watch to preserve the neutrality of the United States.

AMERICANS ON BOARD THE EITEL FRIEDRICH

Newport News, Va., March 10.—The captain of the American sailing ship William P. Frye and his wife are said also to be on board the Prinz Eitel Friedrich. The Frye, commanded by Captain Kiehne, sailed from Seattle, Nov. 6, for Queenstown and has not been reported since she passed Tatohi, Washington, the following day.

As nearly as can be learned from the Prinz Eitel Friedrich, the Frye was sunk because she was alleged to have been carrying contraband of war. No details were available as to whether she was sunk by the Prinz Eitel or another ship.

Surgeon Knosch of the Eitel told Customs Collector Hamilton that the Frye was sunk in the South Atlantic on Jan. 27 after the Eitel had taken off Captain Kiehne, his family and all the crew.

States until officials at Washington decide what shall be done with the Prinz Eitel Friedrich.

Scared by the red rust and salt of her months at sea, the German auxiliary was painted white on one side and black on the other. It was reported in marine circles that the Eitel Friedrich had been chased to the three-mile limit by a British cruiser, but the German captain had denied the life of his officers, it was not confirmed.

Marine circles were started when the long, sleek ship easily outdistanced by the lines of a North German liner steamed up the bay and into Hampton Roads. She came into the roads and without any attempt at deception, passed quarantine and then came on to this port, where she anchored.

With this German cruiser definitely located in an American port, there remain at large on the high seas outside of German waters only

BIGGEST FLEET IN HISTORY OF U. S. NAVY IS HELD FULLY EQUIPPED OFF CUBAN COAST

ACTION CONSIDERED SIGNIFICANT TO THE MEXICAN SITUATION

Washington, March 10.—Secretary Daniels today issued a statement on the condition of the Atlantic fleet and its auxiliaries now maneuvering in Mexico gulf and Caribbean waters. It was considered significant by some observers of the Mexican situation and followed:

"Never before in the history of our navy has such a powerful fleet been assembled for active service, maneuvers, and target practice with guns and torpedoes as that based on Guantanamo, Cuba, for the last two months under the command of Rear Admiral Fletcher, commander-in-chief of the Atlantic fleet. This force now consists of nineteen battleships and twenty destroyers with a flag ship and a tender.

"Based also on Guantanamo bay is the cruiser squadron, consisting of two armored cruisers and seven light cruisers and gunboats, the various units of which have been operating in the vicinity of Haiti, Santo Domingo and the east coast of Mexico.

"The vessels comprising this fleet are ready for any service and are accompanied by repair ships, supply ships and fuel ships carrying coal, oil and supplies for an extended period.

"At Key West the reserve torpedo flotilla, consisting of 10 destroyers and a tender have been engaged in extended operations.

APPEAL TO AMERICAN RED CROSS

Washington, March 10.—The Mexican Red Cross today appealed to the American Red Cross through Secretary Bryan for food for the starving populace in Mexico City. The appeal, said the famine in the Mexican capital was rapidly growing worse.

Secretary Bryan said the state department would co-operate with the Red Cross as far as possible.

Washington awaits word from Carranza.

Washington, March 10.—Developments in the Mexican situation today were awaiting General Carranza's answer to the American note demanding an improvement of conditions in Mexico City. There were indications that the reply would be favorable.

Conflicting dispatches as to the evacuation of Mexico City during the last 24 hours caused much doubt. A dispatch from Veracruz yesterday at 10 o'clock a. m. indicated General Obregon was still in control.

GERMAN SUBMARINE IS SENT TO BOTTOM

London, March 10.—The German submarine U-20 has been sent to the bottom, according to a statement issued today by the British admiralty.

The submarine, according to the official announcement, was rammed today by the British torpedo boat destroyer Ariel. It went to the bottom.

The members of the submarine's crew surrendered and were saved.

The location of the sinking of the submarine is not disclosed in the admiralty announcement.

The captured crew will be deprived of all special privileges, as was done in the case of the men on board the U-8, and they will be held for trial in connection with the sinking of merchant vessels.

The U-20 probably is the submarine which yesterday sank the British steamer Blackwood.

ENGLAND VIEWS WAR SITUATION AS MOST FAVORABLE TO ALLIES

London, March 10.—As England sees it, not since the war began has the situation both on land and sea been more favorable to the allies than it is today. Confident opinions of this nature are finding constant expression in London.

Slowly but surely, it is argued, the allied fleet is creeping toward Constantinople and thus angling for the head of Berlin, the very dream of Field Marshal Von Hindenburg's army from north Poland is said to be inhibited by many British observers of affairs.

In the west the allies claim the ascendancy all along the line, although no decisive engagements have been fought, while in the Balkans and in Italy, according to British interpretation of the political news from these countries, the majority is clamoring for intervention on the side of Great Britain, France and Russia.

This is said to be notably true in Greece and Rumania in spite of the fact that the governments of these countries still cling outwardly to the policy of neutrality.

The crisis in Greece seems temporarily to have been bridged with the formation of a new cabinet, but whether the new premier can control the chamber of deputies is causing much speculation here.

Though officially denied, reports insist that a ministerial crisis has arisen in Bulgaria where the premier, favoring intervention, was opposed by King Ferdinand. It is said that the Bulgarian prime minister stepped down from office at the same time that Greece's leading statesman retired.

Paris officially confirmed today what London heard unofficially.

THAW WILL TELL STORY OF ESCAPE FROM MATTEAWAN

New York, March 10.—Harry K. Thaw will take the witness stand in his own behalf in his trial with five co-defendants charged with conspiracy, according to the announcement made by his attorneys today. He will tell the story of his escape from Matteawan, it is said.

In this way they believe he will materially aid the fight they are making to establish his sanity.

Each of the witnesses placed upon the stand today by the state upon cross examination was asked questions designed to indicate to the jury that the slayer of

THREE MORE BRITISH STEAMERS SUNK BY GERMAN SUBMARINES

London, March 10.—An official announcement shows that German submarines yesterday, (Tuesday), sank three steamships. The statement follows:

"The steamer Taungistan was sunk by a German submarine off Scarborough at 12.30 o'clock on the morning of March 9. Only one man of her crew of 38 was saved.

"The steamer Blackwood was sunk by a submarine without warning off Hastings at six o'clock on the morning of March 9. Her crew of 17 men was saved.

"The steamer Princess Victoria of Glasgow, was sunk without warning by a German submarine at nine-fifteen o'clock on the morning of March 9, off Liverpool. Her crew of 34 was saved.

The official report announcing the torpedoing of the British steamers Taungistan, Blackwood, and Princess Victoria, the two former cargo boats and the latter one a passenger ship, indicates that German submarines again are raiding at widely separated points around the British Isles. As each of the boats was torpedoed in a period of less than nine hours it would seem probable that all three were sunk by different underwater boats.

SPRAGUE BILL LOST

Columbus, March 10.—Nurses today lost their fight for a system of state examination and registration of members of their profession when the house committee on colleges and universities recommended indefinite postponement of the Sprague bill, providing this. Efforts were made to have Representative Sprague, of Scioto, author of the bill, to lead a fight on the floor of the house to make the bill from the committee before it is reported out.

STATE MAY PURCHASE RAILROAD

Sacramento, Calif., March 10.—Governor Johnson has intimated a movement for the purchase of the Western Pacific railroad, now in the hands of receivers, by the state of California, it was announced today in the governor's office.

London, March 10.—All British transatlantic steamship companies have followed the lead of the Cunard line and reduced the rate for second class passage to New York to $50.

PORTSMOUTH MERCHANTS PROTEST

Columbus, March 10.—A big delegation of drygoods merchants of Portsmouth appeared this afternoon in opposition to the White bill pending in the house providing the eight-hour working day for women workers.

Berne, March 10.—(Via Paris)—A new Zeppelin which is now being given trials over Lake Constance, will be the ninth to leave Friedrichshafen since the war began.

SHERIFF'S WIFE OBLIGING; TWO CRIMINALS MAKE ESCAPE

Mount Vernon, Ohio, March 10.—Hubert Lindsay and Alex Lindsay, brothers, being held for grand larceny, asked Mrs. John M. Woolson, wife of the sheriff, to open a eggidor window after she look them their breakfast this morning. When she complied they escaped from the new county jail by locking her in. Both men have criminal records.

England Takes Over Engineering Plants

London, March 10.—The house of commons late yesterday gave the government authority to take over control of the entire engineering trade of the country and to place it under a combined management for the purpose of increasing the output of munitions of war.

The defense of the realm act, passed at the outbreak of the war, gave the government power to take and exercise control over works where war materials were being actually made. David Lloyd George, chancellor of the exchequer, in behalf of the government, asked that the control of manufacturing be extended to works which were capable of being used for that purpose.

Deed Is Filed

Trustees of Kendall Avenue church Tuesday filed a deed conveying to the Norfolk and Western a tract of land on Kendall avenue for $4500.

REJECT GREEN LINE

Cincinnati, March 10.—Voters of Cincinnati yesterday rejected the proposed twenty-five-year franchise for the so-called Green Lines by the majority of 8,903 in a total vote of 56,323. The vote in favor of the franchise was 23,591, while that against it was 32,444.

Not only the large total vote, but the result by such an overwhelming plurality was a surprise to both sides of the controversy. Only five wards of the twenty-six in the city cast their ballots in the affirmative, the Fourth, Sixth, Eighth, Thirteenth and Nineteenth, while every other ward, regardless of party affiliations, registered its disapproval of the measure.

Opposition was particularly vigorous in the Over-the-Rhine wards, and even the so-called

GOOD FOR THE GOVERNMENT

Captain Thomas F. Ryan, of the regular army, stationed at Indianapolis as a recruiting officer, finds himself defendant in a legal action that promises to take on a national importance, through his enthusiasm to defend the honor of the standing army. The circumstances are that a House judge gave a convict the alternative of enlisting in the service or going to the penitentiary. Captain Ryan resented this as a reflection upon the army, making it, as it did, a refuge for criminals and placing its service on a par with that of the penitentiary. He gave vent to his indignation in a newspaper interview, which caught the eagle eye of the learned judge and he promptly and peremptorily summoned the officer before him to answer for contempt. Washington has taken a hand in the matter and ordered some of the best talent in the attorney general's office to Indianapolis to defend the officer in the contempt proceedings.

What was the exact language of Captain Ryan to which the court took exception, we have no information, but if it cites him for contempt because he criticized his decision for its general principles, it seems to be clearly transgressing its decision, for giving the convict the alternative of joining the army, or going to the penitentiary will strike even casual consideration as rather derogatory to a branch of the governmental service, where the highest ideals of honor and honesty are supposed to be inculcated and no doubt are to a great extent.

LET US SO HOPE.

Expectation that the war in Europe will come to an end at an early day is getting to be of wide impression and belief therein is shown in the quickening of industry, particularly in the iron and steel trade and the generally firmer and rising tone of the stock markets. For humanitarian motives there can be but the one hope if the early conclusion of hostilities and it is also desired for the prosperity of all the nations. Modern science and progress have knit the whole world close together and it is now established that the misfortune of one part becomes the common misfortune of all. It is quite unnecessary to ask who is thy neighbor, because when harm comes to him Germany, or France, Austria, or England, in some way the loss reflects upon you.

MAY BE OUR CHANCE.

On action brought by the Norfolk and Western railway, the supreme court has decided that the two cent passenger fare law, enacted by that state, is unconstitutional. The court holds the state has no power to compel a public corporation to render a service without reasonable compensation, much less one that is ruinous to the enterprise. The peculiar part of the decision is that the court finds a two cent fare is unprofitable, not on testimony offered by the railway, but upon figures produced by the state itself. There is, therefore, no reasonable ground to assume the general principle of justice applied by the court, but that its particular deduction is altogether supported by the established conditions.

May be the outcome of the legal contest will blow some good to Portsmouth and the Norfolk and Western will at once enter upon the construction here of a respectable passenger station, so long held up to the promise of "next year", but broken to the expectation.

Several young men who are studying telegraphy are also getting their practice in the same manner.

The mayor has again called a halt on the driving of the city auto fire engine at an excessive rate of speed.

The mayor has notified Chief W. A. McQuinn that reports reached him that the engine was driven down Ninth street Tuesday afternoon at an unusual speed in answering an alarm from Box 28.

The mayor insists that the safety of human life should not be lost sight of in an effort to save property interests. The mayor directs the chief to suspend the drivers 20 days without pay the first time the order is violated and dismiss them for a second offense.

THE ILLNESS OF CORNELIA CALF

Cornelia Calf one summer day began a noisy bawl.
Said she, "I'm so uncomfortable, I don't feel well at all!
I am so stuffy in the head that I can scarcely speak,
And what is harder still to bear, my eyes and nose both leak."

Her mother said in great alarm, "I'll go for Doctor Sheep,
And while I'm gone, Cornelia, dear, do try to get some sleep!"
She hurried to the doctor's home and soon came back again
With wise old Doctor Sheep, who said, "My child, where is the pain?"

Cornelia said, "It's it by eyes; it's also it by nose."
(She spoke like that because her head was stuffy, I suppose.)
Then Doctor Sheep said right away, "I know what's wrong with her.
She has been playing in the field and caught the hay-fever."

Said he to Mrs. Cow, "The child will have to go away
To some place where she will not see a single bit of hay."
"Where that will be," added Mrs. Cow, "I really do not know."
"The sea shore," said old Doctor Sheep, "is just where she should go."

Good Mrs. Cow was quite alarmed: "We'll go at once," said she,
"But will you tell me, Dr. Sheep, where is the nearest sea?"
"I'm not quite sure," said Doctor Sheep, "I'll have to look around."
But I am sure some handy sea can easily be found.

"I'll let you know this afternoon just what I've learned," said he,
"And in the meantime she must take a dose of cow-slip tea."
But Miss Cornelia cried and howled more loudly than before;
"I will not go one single step to any old sea-shore."

They tried to tell Cornelia that the sea-shore would be grand;
Said she, "There's not a blade of grass and I can't live on sand."
And though they coaxed and coaxed she said, "It is no use to tease."
Then all at once Cornelia Calf commenced to sneeze and sneeze.

I do not know how true it is, but this is what folks say:
By evening Miss Cornelia Calf had sneezed herself away;
Which goes to show it mostly pays to listen to advice,
And if you have a doubt of this just try it once or twice.

Plan To Increase
Number Of Employees

The following from the Elgin Daily News will be of interest here as T. M. Gynan formerly held the position of quality superintendent in the plant of the Solby Shoe Company:

"Five hundred operatives will be employed at the Sol-Schwab shoe factory within two months—more than three times as many as are now on the pay roll, according to T. M. Gynan, superintendent. Since January 1, the factory's output has been increased to 700 pairs of shoes daily. One hundred and fifty hands are now employed. Instead of making a cheap grade of women's shoes the factory is now building expensive feminine footwear, the demand for which has far surpassed expectations.

"The shoes we are making now are of the high grade, fancy topped gaiter effects," said Mr. Gynan. "These are made with cloth tops, white, russet, and other pretty effects, and are meeting with an unequalled demand. We have calls for many more shoes than we are able to produce. The latest model which has been produced at the factory is an inside lace shoe for women, which was greatly admired at the fashion show in Chicago and which had been taken up by large firms who are advertising them extensively and are selling thousands of pairs."

During the vacation at the holiday season a large amount of new machinery was installed at the factory for the special purpose of manufacturing these fancy shoes. Men are still at work putting up machinery."

ACID IN STOMACH
SOURS THE FOOD

Says Excess of Hydrochloric Acid is Cause of Indigestion.

A well-known authority states that stomach trouble and indigestion is nearly always due to acidity—acid stomach—and not, as most folks believe, from a lack of digestive juices. He states that an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach retards digestion and stunts food. Excess of this acid also causes like germs in a can, forming acid fluids and gases, which inflame the stomach like a big balloon. We get that heavy, lumpy feeling in the chest, we eructate sour food, belch gas or have heartburn, flatulency, water-brash, or nausea.

He tells us, to lay aside all digestive aids and instead, get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast while it is effecting, and furthermore, in continue this for one week. While relief follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-forming mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys, and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salts is used by thousands of people for stomach trouble with excellent results.

MORE WITNESSES HEARD IN PROBE OF OFFICIALS; NURSE TELLS HER STORY

The probe of the Morning Star's accusations against Director Jos. Lake and the public safety department was resumed at the city building Wednesday afternoon, with Miss Zona Robinson, a pretty fifteen girl and former pupil nurse at Hempstead hospital, as the star witness for the prosecution.

The meeting was somewhat delayed for want of a stenographer. Mrs. Kate Walsh being unable to attend but the situation was relieved by Judge A. Z. Blair bringing Miss Rosa Kiefer.

After a brief and whispered conference between the committee for both sides, Chairman L. G. Turley announced that the committee had a statement to make on several subjects.

Mr. Turley said that the committee was dissatisfied with the conduct of the counsel for both sides assisting with the case at the last meeting and that it had decided to ask the legal profession to grant the fact that they are there only by sufferance or invitation. The committee was glad, he said, to have their trained minds to assist them in getting at the facts but the committee wanted no further wrangling and arguing with the committee as to its decision.

Lawyers Are Given Warning

The committee, he said, prefers to ask all members of the bar to withdraw from the case unless this can be done, though it needs them. "While here you do not represent any individual before this committee, though we realize there may be times when you will forget yourselves," said he. "The instant the committee ask you to stop we want you to desist and we say that with all respect to your profession," he said, adding "We were enough annoyed by your conduct the last time."

The committee, he said, felt that in questioning the witnesses it might be thought that they had given most of its time and attention to the side of the prosecution but wanted to assure the other side that the committee will be equally as anxious to hear all that they had to offer. He said that the committee realizes that in making its decisions that the chances were they will hurt somebody and all that was asked was that those hurt take it in a manly manner for the committee wanted absolutely to do justice to the case.

Explain Attitude Toward The Mayor

The committee also announced that some references had been made to the committee "sitting down on his Honor the Mayor." Mr. Turley said the committee wanted it understood that they believed in his integrity and industry and appreciated the high responsibility of his office. "We protest against any efforts to have him become disreputable to him and a slight to him is farthest from our minds."

Mayor Frick thanked the committee for the attitude it had taken towards him in this important investigation. He said he was performing an important duty and that whatever the mayor has done or refrained from doing he was following the dictates of an honest conscience. "I want to help rather than interfere with this investigation," he said in conclusion.

"We want to assure you lawyers that we are glad to have you here," repeated Mr. Turley. Judge Blair assured the committee smilingly: "We'll try our best but it must be remembered we have to overcome some well established habits."

The committee announced that it had received word that Miss Tennessee Slater and Mrs. James Routh would appear but that Miss Edna Wiget was in hysterical condition and that it had been decided that Rev. J. W. Dunning would interview her for the committee and find out all she knows. Miss Robinson

Takes The Stand

Miss Robinson who had arrived early and sat beside Attorney Edgar Miller was now called to the stand and given assurance that there ought be no difficulty in taking her story in time to permit her to return home on the packet, The Morning Star's charges were read to the witness who was then asked if she knew anything discreditable to Dr. Lake. Miss Helen Lowe of the public safety department. She was cautioned to weigh everything carefully and confine herself absolutely to the truth for the good names of persons were involved on the one side and the city officers and safety department on the other.

Asked if she knew anything with reference to the hospital she replied "Yes, I do know a number of things."

The witness at last spoke in a low tone of voice and Judge Blair frequently complained about not being able to hear her whenever she turned her head. Mr. Turley relieved matters somewhat by repeating her statements.

Said Dr. Lake Was Frequent Visitor

Miss Robinson testified substantially as follows:

"Dr. Lake visited the hospital very often, once twice, sometimes three times a day. Sometimes he stayed quite a while and sometimes not quite so long. It was usually by daylight but occasionally during the early hours of night. Have known him to be there as late as 9:30, but just occasionally that late."

Asked what chance she had to observe these things she said:

"I was a nurse and had a chance to observe their conduct as I was all over the hospital, but usually on the first floor. Miss Lowe's office and room are on the first floor."

Said They Were Very Familiar

Asked what she had observed the witness said: "Miss Lowe's familiar attitude towards Dr. Lake."

"In what way was her attitude familiar?"

"She talked to him in a familiar tone, addressing him as 'Jon Lake.' I saw him in Miss Lowe's room a number of times. The door was open. It was her bed room. When the door was closed I didn't know he was in there."

"Ever know him to be in there when the door was closed?"

"I couldn't swear to that."

"How long was Dr. Lake in there when the door was open?"

"Couldn't say to be positive, 15 to 30 minutes, possibly not so long as a half hour."

The witness was asked if any business accounts or records were kept in Miss Lowe's room. "Not to my knowledge," she replied.

Miss Robinson continuing her testimony said: "I saw him by her bedside when she was dressed in a kimono. The time I speak of was when she had a sudden attack of appendicitis. A physician had been to see her and shortly after that Dr. Lake came. The door was partly closed then. Later the door was almost closed but I didn't know he was in there."

"Ever notice anything else that was questionable in your opinion?" asked Mr. Turley.

Saw Them In Attic

"Yes I have," replied the witness, saying: "I saw Miss Lowe and Dr. Lake coming from the attic together at different times and saw them go to the cottage at the rear of the hospital together a number of times. I don't remember the date but it was about three months ago. It was when they were planning repairs to the cottage and during the time of the repairs."

Asked if anything was kept in the attic she said that stretchers were kept there and that it was used as a general storage room. She said nothing was brought out of it by Miss Lowe and Dr. Lake save stretchers occasionally.

Asked if she noticed anything particularly in their conduct she said: "Just their general familiar way. They would stay as much as fifteen and twenty minutes and possibly longer. Oftentimes I saw them coming from the attic when I didn't know that they had been there."

Pressed for an explanation of what she meant by their familiar way she said: "His holding of her arm and calling her Helen Lowe and calling off the same cracker she had."

Asked by the committee if she regarded their conduct as frivolous and foolish she replied: "I would consider it that."

Asked if other nurses had observed what she had said she said: "Yes we all talked about it. I heard Miss Lowe call up Dr. Lake one day and ask him to bring out a hat she had at a millinery store and procure some tickets for her at the Sun theatre. He always brought her back when she went out which was seldom."

Asked if they had ever gone anywhere save on the public streets or stores she said: "I don't know."

Saw The Doctor Receive Drinks

Asked what else she knew she said: "I saw Miss Lowe give Dr. Lake drinks. I didn't suppose it was water and was reasonably sure that they were strong drinks because Miss Lowe kept the hospital whiskey in her room. I saw this more than twice—several times. We were so accustomed to it that we did not take any particular notice of it."

The witness, continuing said: "I heard Miss Lowe say that Jon Lake had told her she must not work so hard and should have an assistant so as to make it easier for her."

Asked if she knew anything else concerning either of them she said: "Someone else or just Dr. Lake?" A conference of the committee ensued and it was decided that inasmuch as the hospital was being investigated she could tell all she knew.

Miss Robinson said: "I saw Miss Lowe sitting on the side of a man patient's bed more than once."

Said Attie Visited Were Made Openly

Asked by Committeeman Harry Strong that when Dr. Lake and Miss Lowe visited the "Attie" or cottage they appeared to be doing so openly she replied "Yes."

Asked by Mr. Turley who said it was important to the committee to know whether everything she saw was open or secretive she said: "Yes everything was done openly." She said she knew nothing of any clandestine visits of women to a city officer. She said she was not at present employed and was staying at home with her parents in Trenton.

Attorney Edgar Miller conducted the direct examination of Miss Robinson. He brought out the statement from her at the beginning that she went home sick in January, and that her place was filled by Miss Lowe before she was able to return.

Claimed Nurses Were "Wise"

"Wasn't it a common expression among the nurses that they knew what was going on between Dr. Lake and Miss Lowe?" he asked.

Objection to the question was made by Lake's attorneys, but the committee ruled it competent on the ground that such a fact might disrupt the organization at the hospital. The witness answered "Yes."

Attorney Kimble stated at this time that their side would introduce the testimony of other witnesses in rebuttal.

"Was there any talk among physicians about their conduct?"

"Yes, I know of one physician who spoke about it."

Lake's attorneys wanted the name of the physician made public, but Mr. Miller objected to doing so at that time. He said he had a good reason, but that the name would be given later. He offered to give his name to the committee privately at once, but the committee accepted the excuse as a good one. It was later agreed that the name would be given at the close of the session.

Miss Robinson then told of one time that a couch was removed from the office of the hospital to the attic. Asked by Mr. Miller why the couch was removed, she replied: "Miss Lowe claimed that the night nurses were sleeping on duty."

"Didn't they make excuses to absent themselves from the office?"

"I don't know. One time they said they went to the attic to look for a bedside table."

"Isn't it a fact that they absented themselves on any or all pretexts?" "Yes, they did," was the reply.

"Come Home In The City Auto"

Miss Robinson then stated that Miss Lowe and some of the other nurses were brought home one night about nine o'clock in the city service wagon, accompanied by Dr. Lake. She said Dr. Lake entered Miss Lowe's room and remained there for some time, she did not know how long. She said the door was open when she saw him in there, and that she would not say whether or not he was in there when the door was closed.

"Weren't Dr. Lake's visits to the hospital under Miss Lowe's administration more frequent than when former superintendents were in charge?" asked Mr. Miller.

"Yes," she replied.

"How often did he go out there under former superintendents?"

"Not more than two or three times a week."

"How often after Miss Lowe took charge?"

"Two and sometimes three times a day."

"Was the fact that Miss Lowe sat on the bed of a man patient unusual?"

"Yes, it was unusual."

"Was there any talk about it?"

"Yes, a great deal among the nurses."

Wrote Name of Man Patient

Here the attorney gave the witness a pencil and paper and she wrote the name on the paper. It was later handed to the committee, and then the opposing council, but was not made public.

Miss Tennessee Slater, the colored witness, here interrupted the proceedings by declaring in an adjoining room that she was not going to stay much longer. Chairman Turley prevailed upon her to wait.

"When Dr. Lake and Miss Lowe went to the cottage together, did he have her by the arm," continued Mr. Miller. "Usually," replied the witness.

"Did you ever see them going to the nurses' cottage together?"

"Yes."

Did Not Know If They Were Alone

"Did you see them alone together at any time in the nurses' cottage?" "I don't know whether they were alone or not."

"Is this affidavit which I hold in my hand, the same as you swore to?"

"Yes."

She then identified her signature to the affidavit.

Judge Blair conducted the cross-examination.

"When did you leave Portsmouth?" he asked. "On January 23rd last," she replied.

"Was sickness the only cause?"

"Yes."

"Didn't you have any conversation with Miss Lowe before you left about being retained?"

"No."

Told By Miss Lowe To Go Home

"Didn't Miss Lowe tell you to go home if you were sick?"

"Yes, on Friday afternoon before I went away, she asked me why I didn't go home, and I asked her if she meant for good, and she said, not necessarily."

"Were you not examined by a physician?"

"Yes, by Dr. Fitch."

"Didn't he say that you were not ill?" "Not that I know of," was the reply.

"Didn't Miss Lowe tell you that you were always sick when there was lots of work to do?"

"She did not tell me that."

"Were there any letters produced which you had written?"

"She said that the assistant superintendent had found a letter of mine and that the assistant superintendent had criticised it, but she said she did not believe it was my letter, and that the assistant superintendent had no business reading it."

"Don't you know that Miss Lowe and Dr. Lake went up into the attic to get more lights for the operating room?" asked Judge Blair.

"I did not know what they went up for."

"Did you not see the janitor up there with them?"

"I did not see anybody with them. I did not see them until they were coming down."

"When they went over to the cottage, weren't improvements being made there?"

"Yes, they were making improvements."

"Did you see them going there after the work was done?"

"I left before the improvements were completed."

Other Nurses Also Rode In Auto

"At the time Dr. Lake brought Miss Lowe home in the city service wagon, weren't there other nurses with them?"

"Yes."

"Wasn't the driver of the machine alone?" "Yes."

"Didn't Dr. Lake go back immediately with him?" "I don't know how long he stayed."

"On any other occasions, did you take the precaution to see whether any one was with them?"

"No."

"What nurses talked about Dr. Lake and Miss Lowe?"

"Miss Browning, Miss Reese, Miss Davis, Miss Landon, Miss Jones, and Miss Herstein."

"Haven't there been a marked change in the hospital since Miss Lowe took charge?"

"Yes, in the matter of improvements."

Tells About The Hospital

"Isn't the hospital kept in a cleaner and better condition?"

"Yes, in some ways."

"Didn't Dr. Lake and Miss Lowe always leave something to do when they left the office?"

"They always claimed they did."

"Can you name a single instance when they didn't?"

"No, I can't. Miss Lowe did not always say what they were going to do."

"Wasn't something always done?"

"I only remember one instance, and that was when they went upstairs to get a bedside table."

Came From Mt. Carmel

"You learned that Miss Lowe came from Mt. Carmel hospital, didn't you?" "Yes."

"You knew that that hospital was conducted by the Sisters of the Holy Cross?"

"Yes."

"Aren't they considered the models of any people engaged in the nursing business?" "They are so considered."

"Didn't you know that the Sisters sat on the bedside of all patients?"

"No, I did not."

"Don't you know that Miss Lowe frequently sits on the bedside of her patients?" "I didn't know it."

"Weren't there ranches at the hospital before Miss Lowe came there, running over the food for the patients?" "Yes," she replied.

"Didn't Miss Lowe stay closer to the hospital and wasn't she more attentive to her duties than her predecessors?"

"I couldn't swear to it."

Trips Made In Daylight

"When Miss Lowe went down town with Dr. Lake didn't she go by daylight?" "Yes."

"And return by daylight?"

"Yes."

"Didn't purchases arrive at the hospital afterward?" "Yes."

"Didn't you know that Miss Lowe sent money for the hat and tickets which she wanted Dr. Lake to bring her?" "I didn't know. I do know that Dr. Lake brought them."

"Were you called up yesterday and told you were wanted here?" "Yes."

"Who called you?" "The mayor."

Mayor Frick insisted that the committee ask her if some one did not call her before he did, and after insisting a time being that the prosecution were acting in bad faith, Attorney Sheppard admitting that he called up Attorney Frick and told him to advance the girl $5.00 that she could come here to testify.

Attorney Edgar Miller offered as evidence a letter from Miss Lowe to Miss Robertson, dismissing her, which was received in front a few days before she was coming back, he claimed. He also offered a written recommendation said to have been signed by Dr. Fitch, commending her, in refutation of the claim of the defense that he examined her and found her well when she claimed to be sick.

More Improvements Have Been Made

Judge Blair got the witness to admit that more improvements were made to the hospital since Miss Lowe was there, but Mr. Miller brought out the statement that she had received more financial assistance.

"Did you ever hear Dr. Lake tell any of the former superintendents not to work hard," asked Mr. Miller.

"No," she replied.

"Has Miss Lowe ever told you to sit on the beds of the patients?"

"No."

Tennessee Slater Goes On Stand

Tennessee Slater, colored woman, employed as chauffeur for Mrs. Irene Huston, of the Chillicothe Pike, was the second witness. Chairman Turley read the charges to her, and asked her if she knew anything about the matter.

"I don't know anything that happened in the hospital proper," she replied.

"What do you know," he asked. "I have seen them go to the nurses' home across the pike together."

"Did you think they had business in there?"

"I suppose Dr. Lake was learning Miss Lowe to play the Victrola," the witness replied amid laughter.

"A good many times."

"Where would they go?"

"Up and down the lane, and up and down the pike."

"Would they be gone long?"

"I thought it was a good clip."

"Well, were they gone until a late hour, or did they return early, say nine o'clock?"

"It was after nine o'clock. I say it was late."

"Well, how late?"

"Well, for some people it is very late, and one o'clock in the morning is early, but I called it pretty late."

"Was it in the daytime or night time?"

"Daytime and night both."

"Was it late at night?" Mr. Turley asked again.

"Well," she rejoined, "some people stay up all night and think that is nothing, but for me, I say it was late. It was while Miss Huston was sick and that was how I came to be up."

Mr. Turley concluded his examination at this point, and the witness was turned over to Attorney George W. Sheppard.

Had Seen Sleigh Rides

The witness said she had seen Dr. Lake and Miss Lowe walk to the cottage together. Asked what their attitude was she said "He was walking with her like persons do with anybody who like."

She said she saw them sleigh riding together. "They would go up the lane and up town," continued the witness. "Sometimes it was in the morning, sometimes in the afternoon and sometimes after supper. One time it was late, it was either 12 o'clock or later. That was only once. He was going home when I noticed him. Yes, I suppose he was in good condition. I saw his head down and allowed he was nodding. I went over to Chinchy Ruhlman's Thursday about some time."

The witness was interrupted by Judge Blair objecting that the other side had no right to undertake the impeachment of Mr. Ruhlman who he said was their own witness. Attorney Sheppard denied he was trying to impeach Ruhlman saying that he was merely laying the foundation to recall him.

"They haven't the right to impeach and this is mere hearsay," repeated Judge Blair. "Well he lied," hollily exclaimed Miss Slater. Attorney Miller said: if court tactics had been permitted at the last meeting he could have shown in fifteen minutes that Mr. Ruhlman does know something.

"We want to convince the committee that he does know something," said he.

Objected To Conversation

Judge Blair continued objecting to having the witness tell any conversation she had with Mr. Ruhlman. This aroused her ire and her eyes flashing fire she became very stubborn and caustic in all of her remarks.

Mr. Sheppard said if the committee had a legal form of procedure the lawyers might be able to assist in getting the facts from witnesses but otherwise might as well quit.

Mr. Sheppard had said he knew something and "we can prove it."

"If you'll just let me tell," started Miss Slater only to be interrupted again, Judge Blair objecting. Mr. Sheppard insisted that Ruhlman had talked to the witness with reference to the hospital but Judge Blair said such testimony would open the door for all kind of hearsay evidence and lead down the committee with stuff that the persons accorded with statements would deny.

"Miss Tennessee's statement can't rise any higher than Mr. Ruhlman's," said he. "Oh, fiddlesticks," exclaimed Miss Slater.

Judge Blair said the committee had a right to recall Mr. Ruhlman and refresh his memory but can go no further. Mr. Sheppard insisted that this was not hearsay but primary evidence, saying he was not his witness but the committee's witness.

Judge Blair said Ruhlman was the committee's witness only in the sense that he could come in and tell what he had known and that he had been ordered in by the other side. "At the committee's suggestion," retorted Mr. Miller.

Will Recall Mr. Ruhlman

Mr. Turley said the committee had tried very earnestly to have witnesses confine themselves to what they knew but had decided to recall Mr. Ruhlman and that Dr. Dunning would see Miss Slater and hear what she had to say with reference to Mr. Ruhlman. He said there was no desire on the part of the committee to keep out the facts nor to discredit Mr. Ruhlman.

Asked if she lived with Miss Irene Huston Miss Slater said angrily: "I think I do, I've lived with her a hundred years." Asked if she knew it was Dr. Lake passing by the rapid clip of his horse she said: "I don't go by horses. I saw Dr. Lake in his buggy."

"Did they go sleigh riding off together?"

"No."

"What else have you seen," asked Mr. Turley.

"I saw Dr. Lake and Miss Lowe across the pike many times. He was always very attentive to her, helped her up the steps, and so forth. He also took her buggy riding and sleigh riding."

"Did they go sleigh riding off together?"

"No."

MANY FRIENDS CAME TO ATTEND THE FUNERAL OF MR. HARRY S. GRIMES

George R. Grimes, of Terre Haute, Indiana, who came to attend the funeral of his brother, Harry S. Grimes, remained over in the city, and will not return home until Thursday. Mr. Grimes is a civil engineer and contractor and has some important public work on hand in his home town. He is the last surviving brother of a numerous family. Owing to illness other members of his family were unable to attend.

Shirley V. Grimes, son of the late J. S. Grimes, was unable to reach home in time for the funeral services. He is in the extreme southern part of Louisiana, where he is touring with a large show combination of which he is part owner, and would not have been able to have reached home until Friday.

Of the other friends who came from a distance to attend the funeral, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel H. Sowers and Mr. Fred Rathbun, of Columbus, Ohio, remained over until this morning, returning home on an early train. Mr. J. W. McGord, prominent grain man of Columbus, who came not only as a dear friend of the deceased, but also as representative of the Ohio Grain Dealers' Fire Insurance company, the Ohio Grain Dealers' Association, National Grain Dealers' Association, Ohio Shippers Association, and Grain Dealers' National Fire Insurance company, returned home Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Vaughn and Mr. and Mrs. William M. Woodrow of Chillicothe, returned home Tuesday afternoon. Col. Charles H. Groves, of Circleville, a warm friend of Mr. Grimes, who had arrangements made to leave with his family this morning for a trip to California, was also present at the funeral. He was accompanied by Mr. Frank Hoffner and Mr. John Boggs, prominent grain men of Circleville. They returned home Tuesday afternoon. Other friends from the Scioto Valley and from Cincinnati returned home also Tuesday afternoon.

Prominent among the out of town visitors was Mr. J. Carver Strong, of Chicago, Illinois, manager of the Price Current and Grain Reporter, an influential trade journal. Mr. Strong had been a devoted admirer of Mr. Grimes for many years, and said that he felt that he could not miss the last opportunity to show his respect and esteem for the man who had been his friend and who had assisted him in many ways in establishing his journal. "He was my friend and helped me when I needed a friend and needed help," said Mr. Strong.

Telegrams and letters from Mr. Grimes' friends in various parts of the country continue to come to the family. The news of his end was carried in the Associated Press countrywide report Sunday night and appeared in newspapers throughout the land.

Mr. Grimes left his business affairs in splendid shape, having adjusted everything as he wanted them to be. A few weeks ago he expressed the great relief he felt at having done so, saying that he did not owe any man a dollar, aside from the very recent expenses of his illness. He left a will which has not been opened, and which will be probated later in the week.

HARRY S. GRIMES
(An Appreciation)

In company with a sorrowing community, the writer has come to lay a flower upon the bier of Harry S. Grimes.

For others—more intimate, and more practiced in expression, has been the privilege of recounting his worth to his church, to his home and to the city of his pride and birth. This pen would seek to recall yet another splendid trait of the man. This was the warm welcome ever extended to persons who chose to come to Portsmouth to make the Peerless city their home.

Within the past score of years, it is well known, the community has more than doubled in size. Among this new citizenship are many who have, with varying measure, succeeded in their vocations. With their success Portsmouth has had this added stimulus in its healthy growth.

Of all the old-time native residents, it will be conceded, that none than he were more cordial, yet even unselfishly interested in the progress of this large company who have come to be a part of the city's life. A success himself, Harry S. Grimes was pleased with the prosperity of others.

Mr. Grimes had a beautiful home and a still more beautiful home life. As the holy minister said in his beautiful eulogy, Mr. Grimes was never happier than when extending hospitality to guests from near or far. If he had a cavity—and a pardonable one it would be, it was to be seated at the head of the banquet board and beaming his fine optimism upon those about him. But never more pleased than when he could have his home circle of wife, children and grand-children vie with him in making the stay of the guest at once an epoch and a delight.

Mr. Grimes loved his home, it is certain, better than any joy of his life diversified career. A pretty incident serves to disclose this.

On a bright summer morning the family automobile drove up to the home, manned by the younger men of the household and filled with congenial guests. The plan was a week-end trip to Chillicothe with a ball game as an added attraction. When about to start it seemed only natural to see Mr. Grimes come down from the porch, take his accustomed seat and be a boy with the other young men in the machine.

"Come along, Mr. Grimes, you are delaying the game," said one of the guests.

"Not for me, boys," he said, "Have a good time in your way, but Saturdays and Sundays I stay at home."

HOLY REDEEMER CHIMES PLAYED

As the Grimes funeral procession passed the Holy Redeemer church Tuesday afternoon, the chimes played "Nearer My God To Thee," very beautifully. The late Mr. Grimes was held in very high esteem by the members of the Catholic faith in this city, and the playing of the chimes was expressive of that regard.

Messrs. Collett Pay Tribute To Mr. Grimes

When Charles J. Collett and Harry L. Collett of Ironton launched the Ironton News, the late Mr. H. S. Grimes was among its first subscribers, and took out a two-year subscription.

Mr. Grimes was always a loyal friend to the lively little weekly issued by Messrs. Collett. Relative to the death of their friend and admirer the owners of the paper pay the following tribute:

"Harry S. Grimes of Portsmouth is dead, and the event occurring last Sunday. Mr. Grimes was the victim of cancer, that deadliest of diseases. He made a heroic fight for life, because he loved his fellows, and was never happier than when saying or doing something nice for friends, and few men had more friends than handsome Harry S. Grimes, the cream of good fellows.

"Portsmouth has sustained a serious loss in the death of H. S. Grimes who did much for his home town, which he loved next to that of his interesting and accomplished family, and as President of The Board of Trade of Peerless Portsmouth, he done more to advertise and boost that city than any other man has ever done.

"Harry S. Grimes was a man of extraordinary pleasing address, and when you met him once, you never forgot his cheerful, interested greeting, and the music of his attractive voice.

"He leaves a wife, Mrs. Mary C. Grimes, and three children, Shirley V. and John Alexander Grimes, and Leah Pauline Taylor, all of whom were at home when the Angel of Death called.

"Harry S. Grimes has been a subscriber of The News for years, and he was of that rare kind so seldom met, as each year he sent his check, accompanied by a kind and encouraging letter, always complimentary, that done the youthful editor and manager good to read, and we usually sent his letters abroad through our columns that our readers might enjoy the pearls of thought that came from the heart of this Prince among men.

"We are too far away to send flowers, or attend the funeral of our friend, but we send verbal roses that live longer than those native makes so beautiful, whose lives are much too brief, as was the useful and beautiful life of Harry S. Grimes."

Must Clear Up Robbery Mystery; Other Police News

Lawrence Johnson, an East End brick yard employee, was given by the mayor until Thursday morning to restore or locate the twenty some dollars James W. Smith, of High street, claims Johnson robbed him of Tuesday evening.

According to the testimony given Smith, who is just recovering from a stage of la grippe, was playing pool at Joe Distel's place when Johnson "batted in." He wanted something to drink and Smith handed him a half pint of apple brandy. Johnson took a swig then pocketed the bottle. Smith offered no objection, saying he never drank brandy, preferring straight whiskey. Smith next visited Alf Ray's pool room but did not drink anything there. He went from there to butcher shop on Eleventh street and purchased a steak. He said his money was still intact in a pocketbook.

Johnson who had followed him, was standing at his side. Once outside Johnson, he said, told him he also lived in the Hilltop district. He invited him up an alley to have a drink. Smith said he refused to go and that when the next alley was reached Johnson again offered him a "drink" and tried to pull him up the alley. When he refused Johnson struck him a glancing blow with a stick. This aroused his suspicion and he decided to get away from him. He had gotten to in front of a house at No. 1334 High street when Johnson stole up behind him and grabbed around him saying "Right here we drink or die."

He said Johnson pushed his thumb into his mouth and kicked him. They struggled up onto a porch and some men Smith appealed to refused to summon the police. Johnson broke away but he overtook him and in the struggle his clothes were torn into shreds. Johnson's shirt too was rent. After the struggle Smith said he discovered his pocketbook and money gone.

Johnson admitted all save that of stealing the money. He was rather surly and once when ordered by the mayor to sit up straight in his chair growled out "Oh you go to H—L." His widowed mother entered towards the close of the hearing and with tears in her eyes related how she had tried to keep the son out of trouble. She informed the court that he was not yet 21 years of age.

The mayor told Smith he had no sympathy for him because he had given Johnson liquor and expressed regret that Mrs. Smith was not present in court to give an account of her husband's general conduct. "She ought to give you a good spanking," said the mayor. "I guess you're right," replied Smith.

Peggy Davis Is Soaked
Six months in the Cincinnati workhouse in addition to a $25 fine, was the stiff sentence meted out to Fred "Peggy" Davis, a North End negro character, for alleged conducting a disorderly house.

Davis was adjudged the worst disturbing agency of the colored section of the city. Harry Johnson, John Hurd, Agnes Hayes and a few other witnesses who were examined would enlighten the court very little on alleged disorders at the cripple's one room in Paradise alley but a letter the mayor had received from a woman and Davis' own admissions that he had spent $1.95 he had secured from his mother for booze Sunday. The court and spectators fairly gasped when "Peggy" declared he had drunk the whole supply. He said he purchased a quart from Charles Duffy, a half pint from Clay Parks and had also gotten a drink from "Dook" Hurd's brother. He admitted that his neighbor, Jim Holly, might be "boot-legging." As Polly is under a suspended sentence the court will also order it to be put into effect. Davis denied that "knock-out" drops had ever been administered to anyone at his home.

Will Browning, who is charged with disorderly conduct, failed to answer to his name as he is ill. The Clifford boys who are charged with fighting also failed to appear.

Leo Rose, a Huntington negro, was dismissed by the mayor upon assurance from Chief McCarty that he had merely caused a commotion by his frantic efforts to escape a gang of white boys who out of pure meanness, had chased him through the East End Tuesday evening.

CITY GAINS NEW RESIDENTS

Mr. and Mrs. John Henson and son Charles Skelton have moved from Blue Run to 73 Eleventh St. and will make this city their future home.

Mr. Henson, who is 79 years of age is as spry as a man of 50, and reads with glasses. He belongs to the well known Henson family of the northern part of this county, and is one of six brothers, who nobly served their country during the civil war. They were Samuel, John, George, Charles, Thomas and Jacob, and all escaped the perils of war. All are now living except Samuel, who died about 8 years ago. Mrs. Lydia Richey, wife of Parker Richey of Fifteenth street this city, is a sister.

They were the children of Thomas Henson, who emigrated from Europe to Pennsylvania, and later came to this county where he purchased property. Travel was not safe in those days as at present, and he was drowned on a trip back to Pennsylvania to settle up his affairs.

Miss Ann Goodman has returned from a visit with friends in Cincinnati.

Portsmouth—Your home town and mine: She is strong; she is not weak, either financially, intellectually, morally she is. We can help the morals by establishing a Day Nursery by beginning on the babies. The home is secured. Father Goodell has added $3 a month to the $12 he has promised, and we have secured a home in the rear of Fourth and Bond street, a pretty home with bath for $15. Let us get together on this. If you and a thousand others will help us we can get employment for these mothers. Care for the babies and reduce the death rate among these little ones. There are a few ladies now interested. Let all churches, clubs, all organizations get together, shoulder to shoulder, and work.

"Help these women who labor for thee!" They are not working for a personal motive, but for a betterment of the city. Who among the fathers, who have watched the son or daughter grow into manhood and womanhood, will be first to send a check in memory of this one?

Or, who among us have stood by the side of a little mound in Green-lawn and thought what we would have done.

The Home is ready, that is the building is ready. Now we need just a few kindergarten chairs, small tables—just a few things—a little crib or two. Maybe some mother has one in the attic. Let's go to the attic and let's furnish the Day Nursery.

These women are in earnest—let's help these women!

A surprise shower was given at the Y. W. C. A. last evening, honoring Miss Janet Taylor, one of the young women who makes her home at the Y. W. C. A. This evening Miss Taylor and Mr. Arthur Beasley will be married at half-after-eight at the German Evangelical parsonage, where Rev. S. Lindemeyer will officiate. The attendants will be Miss Sallie Clinton and Mr. William Phillips. The bride will wear a pretty gown of white voile and lace, and her maid will be attired in a gown of green silk. After the ceremony the bridal party will return to the Y. W. C. A., where a reception will be held and light refreshments will be served to the young women of the home and their young men friends. Last evening Miss Taylor was called to the back part of the home to have a final "try on" of her wedding gown, and while there the girls of the home assembled in the living room and when she returned she was showered with numerous packages, containing all sorts of dainty wearing apparel for the bride. She was made to sit on the floor and open the parcels, all of which she was very appreciative. There were thirty-seven girls who took part in the shower, which was held soon after supper. Miss Taylor came to Portsmouth a year and a half ago from Moberly, Mo., taking a position with the Brodt Shoe Company, but has been employed at the Selly factory for some time. The groom is a well-known young man and is manager at the Lemou shoe store in the East End. They will reside for awhile with the groom's mother on Ninth street.

Christian Church Concert A Success

The concert at the First Christian church last night surpassed all expectations both in the excellence of the program and the size of the audience. The singing of the choir was marvelous, considering the short time the members have had for organization and training. The program included individual singing and concerted numbers, both vocal and instrumental, including piano, violin, cornet and saxophone.

The male chorus of twenty-four voices was immense and has been made permanent. The program was clever in arrangement and well known operas. The sacred numbers were especially enjoyed. The new hymn-anthem written by Rev. C. S. Brooks and Prof. Theophilus B. Fitz was well received and it is the opinion of the critics that it will live. In fact every number was heartily applauded.

Palmis in profusion decorated the ample platform. As regards the different parts the choir was beautifully arranged.

Mrs. Alan G. Simpson has proven herself a most valiant and helpful member of the choir as organist and accompanist.

The vocal solos given by Prof. Fitz, Mrs. Southworth, Mr. Adams and Miss Foley were much appreciated as were the instrumental numbers of Mrs. Simpson, Miss Gerlach, Miss Drennen and Miss Gilbert. The singing of the triple trio and the male chorus was superb while the big choir displayed wonderful technique and artistic training.

The new movement in church music efficiency which Prof. Fitz has instituted in this community includes instruction in choir and congregational singing, the training of individual voices, properly grouping of the voices according to the natural ability of the individual, organizing male choruses, ladies' choruses, children's choruses in mixed choruses. Much credit is due Prof. Fitz for the manner in which he has organized and trained this aggregation of singers and too much credit can be said in emphasizing his ability as a soloist and leader.

Head Pin Tournney Gets Great Start

The head pin tournament which is being held under the auspices of the local team that will roll under the colors of Portsmouth at the A. B. C. at Peoria, Ill., opened at the Play House this afternoon, and was freely and enthusiastically patronized. Many bowlers took part and the interest shown is enough to predict the tourney will be the biggest success of its kind ever held in Portsmouth. The prizes consist of two suits of tailor made clothes, pair of solid gold cuff buttons, box mixed chocolates, box cigars and meerschaum pipe. The prizes are quite valuable indeed and no doubt a keen rivalry will exist before they are finally bestowed upon the winners.

The tournament will be held to-night and Thursday, both afternoon and night. On Thursday night the alleys 4 and 5 will be turned over to members of the Masonic league and needless to say they will be kept busy from the jump.

A duck pin team from Huntington will meet a local team on alleys 1 and 2. This game will start promptly at 7:30 o'clock, but outside of these two alleys being occupied the tournament will not be interfered with. Come out and see the fun, either to-night or Thursday.

DETECTIVE ELLSWORTH GRANTED NEW TRIAL

The mayor Wednesday granted W. A. Ellsworth, the N. & W. detective, a new trial on the charge of disorderly conduct preferred against him by John Cooper and has fixed Friday morning at 9:30 as the time.

The mayor did not sustain all of the arguments presented by Attorney J. F. Johnley and said he could not grant Mr. Ellsworth a jury trial as the penalty carried no imprisonment with it save to enforce payment of the fine, but was willing to show the defendant the consideration asked for and felt this would be satisfactory to the attorney for the other side.

A wedding which will come as a great surprise to their many friends and relatives is that of Miss Margaret Bauer, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Bauer, of Findlay street, and Mr. Gilbert Heisel, son of Mrs. Henry Heisel, of 818 Harvard place, which took place today at high noon at the home of Mr. J. W. Dunning, pastor of the First Presbyterian church.

The wedding was a quiet affair on account of the recent death of the groom's father. The happy couple left this afternoon on a short honeymoon trip to Cincinnati, after which they will return to Portsmouth, to make their home.

The present with the groom's mother, on Harvard place.

The bride is a pretty and attractive young girl, who has been employed at the Corner Rock Store for some time. How Hair Can Be Forced To Grow Luxuriantly

The Most Captivating Actress on the American Stage and Most Famous Self-Made Beauty, Reveals More of Her Own Beauty Secrets.

By MISS YALSKA SURATT.

There is a world of difference between hair that is thin and hair that is thick. There are many hair tonics sold as hair growers simply because it has been generally assumed that to tone up the hair roots causes them to renewed growth. But this result is very meager and as a rule is disappointing.

I want to give you here the formula for a real hair-grower, and you will know by actual, visible results that you have it.

MRS. OLDIS—A very remarkable feature of my hair is that it is so thick and so soft. I have a crown made up of hair, and I have a crown made up of hair. I have a crown made up of hair, and I have a crown made up of hair. I have a crown made up of hair, and I have a crown made up of hair.

IT RUINS HAIR TO WASH IT WITH SOAP

Soap should be used very sparingly, if at all, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for sticky use is just ordinary milled coconut oil (which is pure and germless), is cheaper and better than soap or anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get milled coconut oil at any pharmacy, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

THEATRICAL

The Sun Theatre
Tonight ends "The Third Degree" at the popular play house, and if the house can be judged from the matinee crowd, it will be entirely sold out. It is truly a great play and well worth seeing. "Lena Rivers" will be the next attraction. This famous old story is being staged by the request of many people, most of whom have seen the play, but they want to see The Barrett Players play it.

DETECTIVE ELLSWORTH GRANTED NEW TRIAL

The mayor Wednesday granted W. A. Ellsworth, the N. & W. detective, a new trial on the charge of disorderly conduct preferred against him by John Cooper and his fixed Friday morning at 9:30 as the time.

The mayor did not sustain all of the arguments presented by Attorney J. F. Johnley and said he could not grant Mr. Ellsworth a jury trial as the penalty carried no imprisonment with it save to enforce payment of the fine, but was willing to show the defendant the consideration asked for and Games Friday Evening.

Spiders vs. Corn Shuckers, alleys 1 and 5.
Eagles vs. Clod Hoppers, alleys 2 and 3.

Shooting at new pins, making as much noise as a whole flock of geese, four teams of the Masonic Bowling league played all sorts of havoc at the Play House alleys, Tuesday night and when the climaxing faded into a setting sun, a glance over the score board showed the Giant Killers had taken three in a row from the Cement Specialists and the Ivory Knobs had given the Wurster Rexalls the same kind of treatment.

It was a night of fun, frolic and splits—mostly splits. New pins full hard at the base, and the good Lord knows that they struck like flies to tangletail last night. Perfectly good avals resulted in a wide open split, while at other times that nemesis, pin No. 10, stood up in the end of the game. The splits and the players had a large evening, and filled with splendid fellowship, good natured kidding, determined efforts and tobacco smoke, both pipe and cigar.

The Giants went after the Cement Specialists on alleys 4 and 5 and the did not allow the Greveling, hirelings the consolation of a single game. The Giants did not exert themselves at any stage and plodded along in that commendable way of theirs, keepings at a safe distance during the entire journey. Every fellow in the Giant line-up had a fair average, and while no phenomenal scores were made, the boys were quiet well shielded. Walter Wilhelm rolled with the Giants and outside of his last game he went great guns. He accumulated six splits in the third game and, of course, this prevented a good score. McCain dropped into a winning bunch at last, shooting with the Giants in two games and holding up his end in remarkable style. George Wilhelm, Charley Huss, Charles Barber and the captain did nicely.

Chad Horv was the trust buster last night. He was as sober as a sombrero governed jurist and whanged into the new wood like he was reared as a rail splitter. He garnered 109 as a starter, came back with 221 and thereafter refused to speak to his two comrades, Prof. Greveling and Dr. Frank Preston Spencer. Success sort of undermined Chad, for his last effort was pathetic, although he said to his credit that he split 'em with consistent and frequent regularity. Hager, Freund and Lloyd were at least consistent, if not brilliant. They did fairly well and had much of fun.

Out on 2 and 3, the Ivory Knobs and Rexalls battled with all sorts of determination. Orville Sprague, who had on his kidding clothes, led off and led on for the Ivories. He did fine work, and always had his good humor on tap. He was high man for the Ivories and tickled to death. Raymond York did quite well, thanks, for his average was something like 115 and that is going some for Raymond. Fred N. Tynes was in the Yorkshire stakes, while Dr. Perry Winkler Young had one awful time getting a start. William Edson Clayton tried hard and considering his surroundings, he did fairly well. President William Zollman shot to hit one game and couldn't get the range.

Captain George Wurster was the shining light for the Rexalls. He went nicely in all instances and had been recorded any kind of support his team would have won three games. But such is life in big cities like Portsmouth. Walter Schuyler was fairly good and so was Prof. Hunsberger. Dr. Hayes hit 'em just right, so it looked, but the pins absolutely refused to cave in. Merle Dudult tried hard, but his efforts were not as faithful as he wished. Still he was not far behind some of the more experienced artists.

Well, there was plenty of fun—fun of the wholesome kind, and it is now for the head pin tournament, in which the members of the Masonic League have been invited. Tomorrow (Thursday) night will be known as Masonic night. The Masons will be out in full force. Make no mistake about that. The scores:

Is He Equal To Ritchie?

The wise ones are saying that it is not likely that a very decisive result will be reached in the boxing bout between Willie Ritchie and Freddy Welsh in Madison Square Garden on Thursday, March 11. Welsh is shown in the picture in one of his favorite fighting attitudes.

Has Real Ball Club

Manager Herzog of the Reds says he has a better ball club right now in Alexandria than he had any time last season. This is Herzog's March chirp. Reserve your judgment on the excellence of the Reds until you hear his chirp and May chirps.

Four State League Cities Are Ready To Start, Outlook Fine

Local Players Sold

Affairs of the Ohio State League are in such shape that it can be confidently expected that a circuit of six clubs will be definitely decided upon within the next few days. After a while of uncertainty, it is now almost a foregone conclusion that the classy little organization will start the season under a new arrangement that will insure a prosperous and profitable season.

Four cities are already to start, and the only thing that remains to be accomplished is to choose the other two clubs from the three cities that are anxious for admittance. Portsmouth, Lexington, Charleston and Truitt have their organizations perfected, and are making preparations for the season. The other three cities from which the two other clubs will be chosen are Chillicothe, Frankfort, Ky., and Richmond, Ky.

President William Gableman of the local club was in Chillicothe Monday, and while there succeeded in interesting a coterie of men whose backing would insure a league club in the ancient metropolis. He is to receive a definite answer by Friday of this week. At the same time, President Tom Sheets of the Lexington club, another fine wire and hustler, was in Frankfort, Ky., working up enthusiasm in the Kentucky capital. He found the fans there in an enthusiastic frame of mind regarding a league club, and while there arranged for a mass meeting at which the money necessary to start will be raised by popular subscription.

Richmond, Ky., is clamoring for admittance into the league, and should either Chillicothe or Frankfort fall to take a franchise, it will be given to Richmond. The fans of that city supported a club locally a few years ago in the Ohio State League.

Three cities have been sure for organized baseball all season, namely, Portsmouth, Lexington and Charleston. The club management in the first two named cities will be the same as last year, with Presidents Gableman and Sheets at the helm. Charleston is stronger than ever, with L. E. Smith, former proprietor of the Washington hotel of this city, as sole owner. Messrs. Filgrove and Hannan, the latter the mayor, have taken hold of the front franchise, and while here Monday, they stated that they were sure to start the season and finish it, too. Dick Smith will again be the manager.

When the two cities have been agreed upon, a meeting of the magnates will be called to perfect an organization. A president will be elected to succeed R. W. Read, and he will be required to give his entire time to the league, visiting all of the cities at periodic intervals and keeping a close tab on his financial staff. Much of the overhead expense of the league in the past will be done away with this year, and the organization will be operated on a more business-like and economical basis.

KINGSTON HERE FRIDAY

The local high school basketball quintet will be at home Friday night when they meet a basketball five representing Kingston high school in the local gym. Kingston has always fallen before the Red and Blue five and as the local quintet is extra strong in every part of the game little trouble is anticipated in putting over another victory. The locals standing so far this season is 7 won and 4 lost. York, right forward who has been going at a lightning clip in the last few games will probably be out of the game on account of illness.

The crowds at the last couple of games have not been what they should have been and the team lost quite a sum on the Gallipoli game as the expense in bringing the team here was extra large. The students will have to turn out in large numbers in the last three games to permit the team to finish on the right side of the ledger. Coach Cornett has received word from Waverly and they are ready to book two games with the locals. They want to come here March 17 and a return game on their floor April 2.

State League May See A Big Change

Columbus, O., March 10.—That the Ohio State League is to be split into two separate leagues, which will be in the field during the coming season, is the gist of authoritative rumors which have started since President Read returned.

According to the reports, Read, who has announced his intention of resigning as head of the practically defunct Ohio State League, already is laying plans for the formation of a circuit of Central Ohio towns which he will lead.

Among the cities which have been mentioned for a place in the new

Ohio League are Chillicothe, Lancaster, Marion, Lima, Wapakoneta and Logan, with the possible addition of two other towns to make an eight club circuit.

The new leagues thus formed would be practically a trolley league and would form a compact circuit with but small travel expenses.

The second league which may be formed is said to include Portsmouth, Lexington, Frankfort, Mayeville, Richmond and one other Kentucky town which has not yet been decided upon.

SPORTLETS

The Giants' list of pitchers now totals nineteen. At least twelve will have to be dropped.

Larry Cheney, the Cubs' star twirler, is trying to develop a slow ball.

The Cardinals have ten pitchers and four catchers in training at Hot Wells, Texas. The twirlers are: Doak, Salts, Jordan, Griner, Melinas, Robinson, Meadows, Lotz and Steel. Four are southpaws.

Miller Huggins, manager of the Cardinals, continues to make visits to the Giants' training camp at Martin Springs, to "look 'em over," before choosing the man who will go to St. Louis in exchange for Pettit.

Snowstorm At San Antonio

Portsmouth players with San Antonio can into a real snowstorm in that city Monday and Tuesday according to telegraphic information. A three inch snowfall was reported, and of course, spring practice was out of the question. Baggan, Crum and De Lottelle write friends that they are going to make good in their new surroundings.

Must Draw Oodles Of Bugs

Baseball authorities who have studied the situation carefully point out that under the conditions that prevailed in the early months a star infield and outfield containing such players as Doherty, Lohle, Chas, Plick and Thomas, could be secured for an annual salary of approximately $17,000. Today a similar combination would be quite a yearly expenditure of five to seven times that amount. Yet the gate receipts prove that attendance has not increased in anything like the same ratio. Eddie Collins' acquisition and contract is said to represent an outlay of more than $10,000 during the next five years. A Chicago statistician has figured that he will have to draw over a quarter million extra attendance to the White Sox park if he is to individually repay the investment.

Local Cuists Won Match

Forquison and Singer formed a local colored team Tuesday afternoon when beat Kountz and Dabney of Ironton in a 200 ball pool match at the Alex Davis pool room on Eleventh street. The local duo finished 80 balls to the good. A return match will be played in Ironton in a few weeks.

HOP TO IT, JOHNNY

Johnny Baggan is certainly getting a flying start down in San Antonio. Cleveland won from San Antonio Sunday and this is what the Cleveland Leader said of Baggan's great work:

The work of Baggan, Ohio State League recruit of the local club, was the outstanding feature of the game. He faced the pitchers six times and got on base five of them, once on an error, once by being hit and three times on singles.

NO LIMIT FOR STARS

It has been estimated that the average salary paid by major league clubs has been doubled in the last ten years. In the case of a majority of the players the increase is less than $700 a year but when the contracts of stars like Eddie Collins, Tris Speaker, Walter Johnson, Jake Daubert and Sam Crawford are figured in, the general advance reaches a surprising amount. The salary limit of the National League was $2,400 fifteen years ago. Today the salary of the mediocre player exceeds these figures and there is no limit for the stars.

A SWING AROUND TRAINING CAMPS

Branch Riekey has already released six "phenoms."

Heine Groh is going to play third for the Reds this season. So says Herzog at Alexandria.

The Reds' outfield this year according to camp gossip will be composed of Griffith, Twombly, Kilmer and Lench.

Eddie Collins is showing up wonderfully well with the White Sox, who are training in California.

Home Run Baker says he will return to the game, and join the Athletics in the South, if Connie Mack comes across. We thought so.

Manager, Clarke of the Pirates has 30 players at Dawson Springs, Ky. The game will soon hop over to Hot Springs.

Bob Fischer has refused to join the St. Louis club and the Pol-Peritt deal may be called off.

Collins pumped out 10 cents per hour. Walters Plumbing Co. ad.

Mack Set Pace

Manager Connie Mack of the Philadelphia Athletics has shown Spartan qualities by pruning his former world's championship team by sale and release until Columbus, Bender, Plank and Collins are no longer Athletics and Baker's connection with the club is uncertain. Pres. Edward Barrow of the International League, has notified the various club owners in his circuit that reductions in player's salaries were in order. Other league executives and club owners favor similar moves but are deterred by long term contracts which cannot be violated. The move toward economy can be seen, however, in the unconditional release of players wherever possible.

WHY GAME IS BEING INJURED

A prominent baseball official said recently that the average follower of the game did not realize the increased cost of the game due to the advancement in players' salaries. Various angles in the business side of the sport made it necessary, including the increasing popularity of basketball, independent opposition and the banding together of the players themselves. Looking at it in a broad minded manner, he said that there were conditions in the situation which warranted increases but in many cases increases were out of proportion to the services rendered.

AUTOS MUST HAVE TAGS

You can turn gray, faded hair back to its natural color and restore it to its original beauty with "Witch's Sage and Sulphur Compound" at any drug store. Those whose hair is turning gray, becoming faded, dry, brittle and thinning, and instantly your clogged pores and after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful—all "dandruff" goes, scalp itching and falling hair stops.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folk aren't wanted around, so get busy with Witch's Sage and Sulphur tea, because it will be so delightful with your dark, handsome hair and youthful appearance within a few days.

Further Plans Are Made To Incorporate Sciotoville, Ohio

According to statements made at a meeting held in the K. of P. hall Tuesday night by Sciotoville citizens, who are anxious to have that village incorporated, owners of property in Linwood, Longmeadow and Martinsburg, which adjoin that village, are not in favor of the plan of incorporation.

This sentiment was openly expressed by several of the heaviest property owners in these suburbs, and if the boundary line of incorporation mapped out at last night's meeting is made permanent these places will not be in the Sciotoville corporation line.

Here is the corporation line as it was announced at Tuesday night's meeting: East to the Little Scioto river and thence north to the B. &

O. bridge. Then the line will be along the north boundary of the Townward Addition, and thence direct to the Harrisonville pike. Then it will cross the Harrisonville pike and follow the Townward line to the Bonsor's Run road, and from this point to Shoemaker's Run and this is followed to Sections Nos. 6 and 9 of Sciotoville and then the line goes direct to the Ohio river.

The various aspects of this proposed line of incorporation were discussed thoroughly at last night's meeting, and according to those present it is considered practical. It includes practically all of Sciotoville's property, it was stated Wednesday.

Loren Yost acted as chairman of last night's meeting.

Fowler Secures A Room On Chillicothe

Virgil Fowler, proprietor of the Camera Shop, who for the past few years has been occupying the Fowler room on Second street, has decided to move to the building, 322 Chillicothe street, occupied by the

Literary Program Very Pleasing

The best and most enjoyable literary program given by the high school students was the one presented Tuesday evening in the high school auditorium before a capacity audience. The regular monthly literary programs were started several months ago and interest in the free entertainment has rapidly grown among the students who are entering into the work heartily. Splendid dramatic scenes are presented to the public by the students who are being greatly encouraged by the teachers.

The two plays reproduced on Tuesday evening highly pleased the large crowd. The first half of the program was a parody on "The Merchant of Venice" written by Hayward Anderson and presented by four seniors, Chas. Beatty, Vance Morris, Hayward Anderson and Anna Tracy. The playlet excited much mirth. Anderson played his part like an opera star. Beatty was extra fine and Morris was the player in the right place in handling out the college language. Anna Tracy played her part in brilliant fashion. The concluding half of the program was a play in three acts, students of the Sophomore class presenting a most beautifully costumed rendition of "The Last of the Mohicans." To Orville McCall goes the most of the credit for the success of the program. In costume, as the Spirit of the Mohicans, he gave the entire story condensed in verse. The stage was covered with dead leaves and a "forest" of pine trees, a setting well adapted to the opening of the play.

Fred Noel as Tamenund, Dennis Parkinson as Uncas, Julius Bauman as Chingachgook and Basil Allstock as Hawkeye played the leading parts. Marvel Galford as Cora and Helen Crabtree as Alice, uncles in captivity, were good. Walter Turner, as Magua, Louis Harmon as Major Heyward, William Anderson as Colonel Munro and William Winters as Hard Heart did splendidly. The parts of first chief and second chief were capably handled by Arthur Carey and Ralph Sanson. Other high school students in costume filled in the parts of Indian girls, boys and messengers. The literary program next month will be in charge of the girl students who promise to have a program that will rival and outclass the one given by the boys last month.

Two new members were given the initiatory degree last night. Mrs. Myron Yenger and Mrs. Charles Crain. Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting. A meeting was also held Tuesday afternoon, at which Zora Ray rehearsed with members of the lodge unwritten work of the order. Mrs. Ray, while

WHAT TO DO FOR ITCHING SKINS

Eczema, ringworm and other itching, burning skin eruptions are so easily made worse by improper treatment that one has to be very careful. There is one method, however, that you need not hesitate to use, even on a baby's tender skin—that is, the real relief treatment. Resinol is the prescription of a Baltimore dermatologist and is the only safe, reliable and restful soap. This is proved so remarkably successful that thousands of other physicians have been prescribing it constantly for 20 years. Resinol stops itching instantly, and almost always heals the eruption quickly and with little cost. Resinol ointment and Resinol soap can be bought at any drug store.

CLEARs BLOTCHY SKIN
Try Resinol soap for a week. You will be surprised to see how it clears and freshens your complexion, even in that short time. Used for the face, it removes dandruff and keeps the hair free from dandruff. This is because it contains the soothing, healing Resinol medication.

BOY AGAIN MISSING

Russell Howe, the 8-year-old Kenyon street boy afflicted with "wanderlust" and who disappeared again Tuesday, was located at No. 3027 Gallia street early Wednesday morning. The boy had no explanation to give of his absence from home save that he had spent the greater part of Tuesday wandering around in the hills north of Gallia pike. The boy's father, Simon Howe, a steelworker and the stepmother are convinced that the boy is not altogether right mentally and expect to consult Judge T. C. Beatty relative to placing him in some institution.

How Mrs. Hurley Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Eldon, Mo.—"I was troubled with displacement, inflammation and female weakness. For two years I could not stand on my feet long at a time and I could not walk two blocks without enduring cutting and drawing pains down my right side which increased every month. I have been at that time purple in the face and would walk the floor. I could not lie down or sit still sometimes for a day and a night at a time. I was nervous, and had very little appetite, no ambition, melancholy, and often felt as though I had not a friend in the world. After I had tried most every female remedy without success, my mother-in-law advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so and gained in strength every day. I have now no trouble in any way and highly praise your medicine. It advertises itself."—Mrs. S. T. HUNTER, Eldon, Missouri.

Remember, the remedy which did this was Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For sale everywhere. It has helped thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulcerations, tumors, irregularities, nervous prostration, and bearing down feeling, indigestion, and nervous prostration, after all other means have failed. Why don't you try it? Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Bigelow Revival Grows In Interest, Band Plays Tonight

"The Tendency Toward Worldliness" was the subject of a forceful sermon the Rev. A. B. Connell delivered at the revival services held in Bigelow church Tuesday evening. The church was almost filled and the services were unusually interesting. The Bigelow Band was present and enlivened the meeting with some stirring music. It will again be on hand Thursday night. The services, under the able leadership of Rev. Connell and Prof. G. W. Good, who have charge of the revival, are increasing in interest, and capacity audiences are looked for during the balance of this week.

"The difference between Abraham and Lot was that Abraham was an out and out Christian and Lot was of the off and on variety," said Rev. Connell shortly after plunging into his subject, "The Tendency Toward Worldliness." He chose as his text, "And Lot pitched his tent with Sodom."

"You do not have to make one leap into a worldly world," said Rev. Connell last night, "you do it by degrees. When Lot went down to the City of Sodom he began to backslide by degrees. When that city was destroyed Lot had to flee for his life, leaving his wife, children and all earthly possessions in the doomed city. When Abraham pleaded for the city he was told that if Lot could produce five converts the town would not be molested, but Lot was unable to show a single convert and the city was effaced. You don't have to leap right into a worldly life. You do it by degrees," declared Rev. Connell, who was heard to a splendid advantage last night.

At tonight's meeting George D. Selby's Bible class, which is one of the largest in the city, will take an active part in the services. The members will render several choruses and one member will read the scriptural lesson and another will offer the prayer.

Hounds Trailed Lou Instead Of Thieves

Lou Gilgen, of the liquor firm of Gilgen & Bulmer, discovered early Wednesday morning that four of his finest Plymouth rock hounds had been stolen some time during the night.

Lou notified the police and arranged to have Roy Lynn's bloodhound trail the thieves. It soon was evident that Lou himself had spoiled the trail by having entered and walked around the coop and in making a trip down the alley in search of the missing hounds. The hound went over the entire course taken by him, but failed to strike the scent of the robbers.

Lou says the theft must have occurred after 11 o'clock Tuesday night, for he had examined the coop at that hour and found everything in order. The thief entered the Gilgen premises at Eighth and Findlay streets through a rear gate.

Dr. McCann Wins In Damage Suit

The jury in the case of Lionel Bauer against Dr. T. H. McCann, $10,000 damages, heard in the Pike county common pleas court Tuesday, returned a verdict Tuesday evening in favor of the defendant. The plaintiff's attorneys, Miller and Micklethwait, of this city, immediately filed a motion for a new trial, and if it is overruled, will carry the case to the court of appeals on error.

Judge L. G. Dill presided, it being his first jury case since he was elevated to the common pleas bench. Attorneys Fyler and Moore represented Dr. McCann. The plaintiff, who is a minor, claims damages, through his parents, for personal injuries received.

MAYOR ORDERS REMOVAL OF VEHICLES

The mayor has directed the chief of police to have the patrolmen end the practice of automobile dealers and livery men storing vehicles on crowded thoroughfares along street car lines.

The mayor cites, particularly Ninth street near Chillicothe, and Findlay street, stating buggies and automobiles standing on these narrow thoroughfares at times require detours in order to escape street car traffic and such congestions are at times very dangerous, he says.

Roof Fire

An alarm from Box 25, at 5:30 Tuesday evening, called the Seventh street department and auto truck to the house owned and occupied by William Harris, colored, 917 Washington street. Mrs. Harris fed the stove a large piece of window blind, and sparks from the fire fell on the roof, causing a brisk blaze to start in the attic. A passer-by on Eleventh street discovered the fire and notified Harris, while an employee of the Lumber company turned in the alarm. Chemicals put out the fire. The damage will not amount to over $10.

Can You Sleep?

"I was bedfast for two years," writes Mrs. Fisher of Athensville, Ill. "For a long time I was so nervous I couldn't sleep. I had worry, troubles, pains in my back and shoulders and indigestion. I tried several doctors and was in the hospital for some time. I tried CARDUI and by the time I had taken three bottles I could sleep all day and sleep sound at night. HUMAN BRUTE CUTS OFF TONGUES OF 2 ANIMALS

A warrant was issued in Squire James Braden's court of Fullerton, Wednesday, for the arrest of a young farmer residing near Shultz, Ky. The warrant, which was signed by A. S. Dehart of this city, came as a sequel to one of the most singular cases that has been brought to the attention of Squire Braden in a long time. The farmer is charged with cutting out the tongues of a mare and a colt owned by Steven Dehart, well known farmer, who lives at Shultz in what is known as the Maloney neighborhood. A. S. Dehart is visiting his father and after looking into the various phases of the matter he swore to an affidavit charging a young farmer living near with maliciously and unlawfully maiming property to wit, one mare and colt owned by Steven Dehart.

A. S. Dehart called on Squire Braden, Tuesday night, and they looked into the incident thoroughly and arranged for another conference this morning at which Dehart had a warrant issued for the arrest of the young man. Sheriff Mack Arthur of Greenup, was notified and he has been acquainted with the facts in the case. Squire Braden stated Wednesday that a close watch was being kept for the man. The colt had its tongue sliced off at the root and the mare's tongue was cut off about two-thirds back, it is claimed.

It will be recalled that two weeks ago Steven Dehart had two sets of fine harness slashed to pieces. An investigation was made, but it failed to disclose the party who is guilty of perpetrating the vandalistic act.
The tongue cutting incident took place last Friday night and was kept a secret in the hopes that Mr. Dehart and son would be able to work up a tangible clue. Mr. Dehart told Squire Braden, Wednesday that neither he nor his father had had any trouble with any of the latter's neighbors and are unable to advance a theory as to what motive was behind the brutal deed.

WANTS TO BE A CITIZEN

Suit Is Settled

The damage suit of Frank Seymour, the local contractor, against the Steamer Greyhound company, has been settled out of court and an entry dismissing the action was filed in common pleas court Wednesday morning. Seymour brought suit to recover the value of a horse that was killed in an accident at the ferry boat some time ago, for which he held the crew of the Greyhound responsible.

Butcher Thurman, who is in charge of O. D. China's meat market thought a cloud burst had hit the village Monday morning when water began pouring down from the ceiling in the butcher shop. The water was turned off before any serious damage resulted. Plumber Ike Wells had just put a faucet on a new water pipe in the flat above the butcher shop and had forgot to turn it off. He turned the water on in the cellar and on going up stairs found heavy busy with a broom trying to get the water out of the shop.

In preparing the plans for the village's water distributing system Engineer Sam Harper never let go of the fact that the village is badly in need of ample fire protection. The plans call for 43 fire hydrants. There will be a hydrant or fire plug on each corner and one in the alley halfway between the square. Small sections of hose are all that will be necessary with the fire plugs so close together.

Contractors Watkins & Phillips have pipe laid and connected on Lakeview avenue as far as Spruce street and Tuesday men were busy laying the pipes in the alleys between Pine street and Gullia place and Pine street and Spruce street.

Abrams In Trouble Up At Chillicothe

The Chillicothe Gazette, of local interest, said Tuesday:

"Joseph Abrams was before the mayor on a charge of loitering. Joseph is 35 years of age, identified by a hair-brush, and claims Portsmouth, Ohio, as his home.

"Evidence in the case brought out the fact that the question at issue was more than that of loitering. It seems that Abrams was trying to obtain merchandise by false pretenses.

"He arrived in town Monday afternoon, about 3:45 o'clock, and in his wanderings about town he dropped into Cahill Brothers' shoe store and told Mr. Cahill that Denis Sullivan had told him to get himself shoes and he would stand for it. He went out and later came back in, and in the meantime someone had called over the phone and said it was Sullivan. Abrams said he would call later for the shoes. The same stunt was tried by him on Wm. E. Higley, the shoeman, but telephone communications showed that Sullivan did not know of such a fellow as Abrams.

"From all appearances it seemed to the authorities that he must have had a confederate. Although he at first evaded the questions of the court, he finally admitted that a fellow by the name of Mosher, also of Portsmouth, had come along with him. He also told the authorities that he had worked in Chillicothe before, at a home on South Mulberry street. He told Mr. Higley that he lived on South Mulberry street.

"Mosher has not been apprehended as yet.
"Abrams was fined $25 and costs and 30 days, and held pending further investigation."

Reno patrolled the East Portsmouth district during the Times administration and made a good and vigilant officer. Since leaving the police force he has been employed in Clark's restaurant at the Terminals.

Frank Seymour Gets Cemetery Contract

Frank Seymour was the lowest bidder for the contract of grading and leveling the new addition of Greenlawn cemetery, which will be the first outdoor public work to be started by the city this season.

The bids opened at the public service office on this work Wednesday noon were as follows: Frank Seymour, 25 cents per cubic yard; Kelley Bros., 35 cents; David Tipton, 30 1-2 cents; John Armstrong, 30 cents; Amos Cole, 34 cents; A. M. Campbell, 38 cents; The S. Monroe & Son Company, 34 1-2 cents; Henderson & Wishon, 27 cents.

Seymour's bid is under the city engineer's estimate. The city council recently appropriated a little less than $2000 for the improvement. All dirt required for the filling will be secured from the Morris place in Kinney Lane. Mr. Morris having agreed to give all that is needed to the contractor in return for terracing his place.

GERMAN SUB IS SENT TO THE BOTTOM

London, March 10.—The German submarine U-20 has been sent to the bottom, according to a statement issued today by the British admiralty.

The submarine, according to the official announcement, was rammed today by the British torpedo boat destroyer Ariel. It went to the bottom.

The members of the submersible's crew surrendered and were saved.

The submarine U-20 was built in 1913. She had a displacement of 340 tons and a speed of 17 knots on the surface and 12 knots submerged. She was equipped with three torpedo tubes.

SEALER CAUGHT IN ICE; 120 ON BOARD

St. Johns, N. F., March 10.—The wireless operator and ten men of the sealing steamer Erik, caught in the ice off Bay Bulls, 15 miles south of here, came ashore over the ice today, having left their ship last night.

No later word has been received from the Erik which has about 120 men on board. Earlier reports were that the Erik had escaped from the ice with three other sealers.

DECLARES CONDITIONS IN MEXICAN CAPITAL WORK OF OPPOSITION

Vera Cruz, March 10.—A declaration that General Obregon had acted in good faith in his efforts to relieve the sufferings of the poor in Mexico City and a denial of charges that he had prevented the distribution of food supplies or otherwise acted in a way calculated to complicate the situation, is the substance of a statement prepared by Alberto J. Pani, head of the National Railways for Charles A. Douglass, General Carranza's Washington attorney, who is now here. It was understood that this statement will be included in one which is to be delivered to the state department at Washington.

Pani asserted that General Obregon was idolized by the poor of Mexico City and that "conditions there which have aroused protests were due, not to him, but to the persistent and adroit opposition of wealthy residents, instituted with the object of bringing Obregon and the constitutional cause into disrepute.

Pani is preparing a detailed statement of the quantity of food supplies which has been shipped into Mexico City together with what has been shipped out and by whom, in an effort to prove untrue charges that Obregon has deliberately attempted to drive the people of the city to desperation, using hunger as a means. He will submit also a statement showing the exact amount of funds collected and the use to which this money was put. The funds on hand are said to have been turned over to Jose Penati, cashier of the bank of San Luis Potosi, who, Pani asserts, was the chief both of the poor and the contributors.

THAW TRIAL EXPECTED TO LAST SIX WEEKS

New York, March 10.—Although the prosecution had announced that they had expected to complete today their case against Harry K. Thaw, on trial for conspiracy in escaping from the Matteawan asylum, John B. Stanchfield, chief of Thaw's counsel, said that he expected the present trial and the supreme court proceedings which may follow it, will occupy fully six weeks.

As the result of rulings on two points in the first day's presentation of evidence, counsel for the state maintained that Justice Fago had excluded from the conspiracy trial the question of Thaw's present mental condition. Thaw's counsel, however, held that the question of admitting evidence on that point has not been determined.

The state's attorneys claim victory in the two legal skirmishes. In the first of these Justice Fago overruled objection by Thaw's counsel to the indictment as evidence of the commitment on which Thaw was first sent to the asylum. Mr.

Stanchfield had contended that this commitment was illegal, and that therefore Thaw had a legal right to escape from the asylum.

The other ruling was the court's refusal to admit evidence given by a witness that since his commitment Thaw has appeared to be rational.

The Volksblatt has been suspended.

Squire Back Home

Squire John W. Byron has returned from a three days' trip to Columbus and Cincinnati on local business.

London, March 10.—An official announcement shows that German submarines yesterday (Tuesday), sank three steamships. The statement follows:

"The steamer Tungistan was sunk by a German submarine off Scarborough at 12:30 o'clock on the morning of March 9. Only one man of her crew of 38 was saved.

"The steamer Blackwood was sunk by a submarine without warning, off Hastings at six o'clock on the morning of March 9. Her crew of 17 men was saved.

"The steamer Princess Victoria of Glasgow, was sunk with out warning by a German submarine at nine-fifteen o'clock on the morning of March 9, off Liverpool. Her crew of 34 was saved."

The official report announcing the torpedoing of the British steamers Tungistan, Blackwood and Princess Victoria, the two former cargo boats and the latter one a coastwise passenger ship, indicates that German submarines again are raiding at widely separated points around the British Isles. As each of the boats was torpedoed in a period of less than nine hours it would seem probable that all three were sunk by different underwater boats.

There are a few of the German submarines that are trying to "starve England out." While they haven't succeeded yet, they have caused John Bull considerable worry. Games Friday Evening:
Spiders vs. Corn Shuckers, alleys 4 and 5.
Eagles vs. Clod Hoppers, alleys 2 and 3.

Shooting at new pins, making as much noise as a whole flock of geese, four teams of the Masonic Bowling League created all sorts of havoc at the Play House alleys, Tuesday night, and when the clanging led like a yelling squad in a game over the score board showed the Ivory Knobs had taken three in a row from the Cement Specials and that the Ivory Knobs had given the Wurster Rexalls the same identical treatment.

It was a night of fun, frolic and spills—mostly spills. New pins, all brand at the best, and the good Lord knows that they stick like flies to a toad's foot last night. Perfectly good results resulted in a wide open split, while at other times that nervous pin No. 10, stood up in splendid style. Take away the spills and the players had a large evening, one filled with splendid fellowship, good natured kidding, determined efforts and tobacco smoke, both pipe and cigar.

The Giants went after the Cement Specials on alleys 4 and 5 and the did not allow the Groveling hirelings the consolation of a single game. The Giants did not exert themselves at any stage and plodded along in that commendable way of theirs, keeping at a safe distance during the entire journey. Every fellow in the Giant line-up had a fair average, and while no phenomenal scores were made, the boys were quite well satisfied. Walter Wilhelm rolled with the Giants and outside of his best game he went great guns. He encountered six spills in the third game and, of course, this prevented a good record. McClen dropped into a winning bunch at last, shooting with the Giants in two games and holding up his end in remarkable style. George Wilhelm, Clarence Hoke, Charles Daubler and the captain did nicely.

Chad Hoke was the trust buster last night. He was as sure as a combination lock and whanged into the splitter. He garnered 100 as a starter, came back with 201 and thereafter refused to speak to his two comrades, Prof. Groveling and Dr. Frank Free. Alone Spencer, Shuckers sort of under-joined Chad, for his last effort was pathetic, although he did add to his credit that the split on with consistent and frequent regularity. Hager, Freund and Lloyd were at least consistent. If not brilliant, they did fairly well and had packs of fun.

Out on 2 and 3, the Ivory Knobs and Rexalls battled with all sorts of determination. Orville Spreng, who had on his kidding clothes, led off and led on for the Ivories. He did fine work, and always had his good humor on tap. He was high man for the Ivories and tucked to death. Raymond Turk did quite well, thanks for his average was something like 150 and that is going some for Raymond. Fred M. Tynes was in the Yorkshire strike, while Dr. Perry Winkler Young had one awful time getting a start. William Edson (Clayton) tried hard and considering his surroundings, he did fairly well. President William Zollman shot in but one game and couldn't get the range.

Captain George Wurster was the shining light for the Rexalls. He went safely in all instances and had been recorded any kind of success his team would have won three games. But such is life in big cities like Portsmouth. Walter Schuyler was fairly good and so was Prof. Hunsberger. Dr. Hayes hit 'em just right, so it looked, but the pins absolutely refused to move in. Meric Daubler tried hard, but his efforts were not as faithful as he wished. Still he was not far behind some of the more experienced artists.

Well, there was plenty of fun—fun of the wholesome kind, and it is now for the head pin tournament, to which the members of the Masonic League have been invited. Tomorrow (Thursday) night will be known as Masonic night. The Masons will be out in full force, make no mistake about that.

Is He Equal To Ritchie?

The wise ones are saying that it is unlikely that a very decisive result will be reached in the boxing bout between Willie Ritchie and Freddy Welsh on Thursday, March 11. Welsh is shown in the picture in one of his favorite fighting attitudes.

Has Real Ball Club

Manager Horning of the Reds says he has a better ball club right now in Alexandria than he had any time last season. This is Horrie's March edict. Deserve your judgment on the excellence of the Reds until you hear the Reds and Mays chirps.

Four State League Cities Are Ready To Start, Outlook Fine

Affairs of the Ohio State League are in such shape that it can be confidently expected that a circuit of six clubs will be definitely decided upon within the next few days. After a winter of uncertainty, it is now almost a foregone conclusion that the classy little organization will start the season under a new arrangement that will insure a prosperous and profitable season.

Four cities are already to start, and the only thing that remains to be accomplished is to choose the other two clubs from the three cities that are anxious for admittance. Portsmouth, Lexington, Charleston and Fronton have their organizations perfected, and are making preparations for the season. The other three cities from which the two other clubs will be chosen are Chillicothe, Frankfort, Ky., and Richmond, Ky.

President William Zollman of the local club was in Chillicothe Monday, and while there succeeded in interesting a number of men whose backing would insure a league club in the ancient metropolis. He is to receive a definite answer by Friday of this week, and the present indications are that it will be a favorable one.

At the same time, President Zollman of the Lexington club, another live wire and hustler, was in Frankfort, Ky., working up enthusiasm in the Kentucky capital. He found the fans there in an enthusiastic frame of mind regarding league baseball, and while there arranged for a mass meeting at which the money necessary to start will be raised by popular subscription.

Richmond, Ky., is clamoring for admittance into the league, and should either Chillicothe or Frankfort fail to take a franchise, it will be given to Richmond. The fans of that city supported a club loyally a few years ago in the Blue Grass League.

Three cities have been sure for organized baseball all season, namely, Portsmouth, Lexington and Charleston. The club management in the first two named cities will be the same as last year, with President Zollman and Shuckers at the helm. Charleston is stronger than ever, with L. E. Smith, former proprietor of the Washington hotel of this city, as sole owner. Messrs. Filsgrove and Hannon, the latter the mayor, have taken hold of the fronton franchise, and while here Monday, they stated that they were sure to start the season and finish it, too. Dick Smith will again be the manager.

When the two cities have been agreed upon, a meeting of the managers will be called to perfect an organization. A president will be elected to succeed it. Mr. Reed, and he will be required to give his entire time to the league, visiting all of the cities at periodic intervals and keeping a close tab on his completed staff. Much of the overhead expense of the league in the past will be done away with this year, and the organization will be operated on a more business-like and economical basis.

Local Players Sold

Announcement of the sale of Pitcher Clarence Teague and Third Baseman Ed Goostree of the local team to the Rocky Mount, N. C., was made Wednesday. They were purchased by Manager Ray Ryan of the Rocky Mount team. He has also secured Outfielder Elsie of Chillicothe, and Daubert Blittie and Applegate of the Charleston Senators. Manager Ryan was in the city and completed the deal with President Zollman for Goostree and Teague.

KINGSTON HERE FRIDAY

The local high school basketball quintet will be at home Friday night when they meet a basketball five representing Kingston high school in the local gym. Kingston has always been before the Red and Blue five and as the local quintet is extra strong in every part of the game little trouble is anticipated in putting over another victory. The locals standing so far this season is 7 won and 4 lost. Turk, right forward who has been going at lightning clip in the last few games, will probably be out of the game on account of illness.

The crowds at the last couple of games have not been what they should have been and the team lost quite a sum, on the Gallopis game as the expense in bringing the team here was extra large. The students will have to turn out in large numbers in the last three games to permit the team to finish on the right side of the ledger. Coach Cornwell has received word from Manager Ryan that they are ready to book two games with the locals. They want to come here March 17 and a return game on their floor, April 2.

State League May See A Big Change

Columbus, O., March 10.—That the Ohio State League is to be split into two separate leagues, which will be in the field during the coming season, is the gist of authoritative rumors which have started since President Reed returned.

According to the reports, Reed, who has announced his intention of resigning as head of the practically defunct Ohio State League, already is juggling plans for the formation of a circuit of Central Ohio towns which he will lead.

Among the cities which have been mentioned for a place in the new

Ohio League are Chillicothe, Lancaster, Marion, Lima, Wapakoneta and Logan, with the possible addition of two other towns to make an eight club circuit.

The new leagues thus formed would be practically a trolley league and would form a compact circuit with but small travel expenses.

The second league which may be formed is said to include Portsmouth, Lexington, Frankfort, Mayaville, Richmond and one other Kentucky town which has not yet been decided upon.

WHY GAME IS BEING INJURED

A prominent baseball official said recently that the average follower of the game did not realize the increased cost of the game due to the advancement in players' salaries.

Various angles in the business side of the sport made it necessary, including the increasing popularity of basketball, independent opposition and the handling together of the players themselves. Looking at it in a broad minded manner, he said that there were conditions in the situation which warranted increases but to many eyes increases seem out of proportion to the services rendered.

The Glanville lot of pitchers now totals thirteen. At least twelve will have to be dropped.

Larry Cheney, the Cubs' star twirler, is trying to develop a slow ball.

The Cardinals have ten pitchers and four catchers in training at Hot Wells, Texas. The twirlers are: Quak, Sallou, Perdue, Orner, Nichols, Robinson, Meadows, Latz and Steel. Four are southpaws.

Miller Hughes, manager of the Cardinals, continues to make visits to the Glanville training camp at Martin Springs, to "look 'em over," before choosing the men who will go to St. Louis in exchange for Peritt.

Snowstorm At San Antonio

Portsmouth players with San Antonio ran into a real snowstorm in that city Monday and Tuesday according to telegraphic information. A three inch snowfall was reported, and of course, spring practice was out of the question. Haggan, Crum and De Lotelle write friends that they are going to make good in their new surroundings.

Must Draw Oodles Of Bugs

Baseball authorities who have studied the situation carefully point out that under the conditions that prevailed in the early months a fair infield and outfield containing such players as Neishanty, Lajoie, Gross, Ellick and Thomas, could be secured for an annual outlay of approximately $17,000. Today a similar combination would require a yearly expenditure of five to seven times that amount. Yet the gate receipts prove that attendance has not increased in anything like the same ratio. Eddie Collins' acquisition and contract is said to represent an outlay of more than $100,000 during the next five years. A Chicago statistician has figures that he will have to draw well over a quarter million extra attendance in the White Sox park if he is to individually repay the investment.

Local Cuists Won Match

Ferguson and Singer formed a local colored team Tuesday afternoon who beat Kountz and Daubert of Fronton in a 200 ball pool match at the Alex Davis pool room on Eleventh street. The local duo finished 80 balls to the good. A return match will be played in fronton in a few weeks.

HOP TO IT, JOHNNY

Johnny Haggan is certainly getting a flying start down in San Antonio, Cleveland won from San Antonio Sunday and this is what the Cleveland leader said of Haggan's great work:

The work of Haggan, Ohio State League recruit of the local club, was the outstanding feature of the game. He faced the pitchers six times and put on the five of them, once on an error, once by being hit and three times on singles.

NO LIMIT FOR STARS

It has been estimated that the average salary paid by major league clubs has been doubled in the last ten years. In the case of a majority of the players the increase is less than $100 a year, but when the contracts of stars like Eddie Collins, Tris Speaker, Walter Johnson, Jake Daubert and Sam Crawford are figured in, the general advance reaches a surprising amount. The salary limit of the National League was $2,400 fifteen years ago. Today the salary of the median player exceeds these figures and there is no limit for the stars.

A SWING AROUND TRAINING CAMPS

Branch Rickey has already released six "phenoms."

Heino Groh is going to play third for the Reds this season, so says Horning at Alexandria.

The Reds' outfield this year according to camp gossip will be composed of Griffith, Twombly, Kilbiter and Leach.

Eddie Collins is showing up wonderfully well with the White Sox, who are training in California.

Home Run Baker says he will return to the game, and join the Athletics in the South, if Frankie Mack comes across. We thought so.

Manager Clarke of the Pirates has 30 players at Dawson Springs, Ky. The game will soon hop over to Hot Springs.

Bob Boserup has refused to join the St. Louis club and the Phil Peritt deal may be called off.

GOOD FOR THE GOVERNMENT

Captain Thomas F. Ryan, of the regular army, stationed at Indianapolis as a recruiting officer finds himself defendant in a legal action that promises to take on a national importance, through an enthusiasm to defend the honor of the standing army. The circumstances are that a Hoosier judge gave a convict the alternative of enlisting in the service or going to the penitentiary. Captain Ryan resented this as a reflection upon the army, making it, as it did, a refuge for criminals and placing its service on a par with that of the penitentiary. He gave vent to his indignation in a newspaper interview, which caught the eagle eye of the learned judge and he promptly and peremptorily summoned the officer before him to answer for contempt. Washington has taken a hand in the matter and ordered some of the best talent in the attorney general's office to Indianapolis to defend the officer in the contempt proceedings.

What was the exact language of Captain Ryan to which the court took exception, we have no information, but if it cites him for contempt because he criticized his decision for its general principles, it seems to be clearly transgressing its decision, for giving the convict the alternative of joining the army, or going to the penitentiary will strike even casual consideration as rather derogatory to a branch of the governmental service, where the highest ideals of honor and honesty are supposed to be inculcated and no doubt are to a great extent.

LET US SO HOPE.

Expectation that the war in Europe will come to an end at an early day is getting to be of wide impression and belief there-in is shown in the quickening of industry, particularly in the iron and steel trade and the generally firmer and rising tone of the stock markets. For humanitarian motives there can be but the one hope if the early conclusion of hostilities and it is also desired for the prosperity of all the nations. Modern science and progress have knit the whole world close together and it is now established that the misfortune of one part becomes the common misfortune of all. It is quite unnecessary to ask who is thy neighbor, because when harm comes to him Germany, or France, Austria, or England, in some way the loss reflects upon you.

MAY BE OUR CHANCE.

On action brought by the Norfolk and Western railway, the supreme court has decided that the two cent passenger fare law, enacted by that state, is unconstitutional. The court holds the state has no power to compel a public corporation to render a service without reasonable compensation, much less one that is ruinous to the enterprise. The peculiar part of the decision is that the court finds a two cent fare is unprofitable, not on testimony offered by the railway, but upon figures produced by the state itself. There is, therefore, no reasonable ground to assume the general principle of justice applied by the court, but that its particular deduction is altogether supported by the established conditions.

May be the outcome of the legal contest will blow some good to Portsmouth and the Norfolk and Western will at once enter upon the construction here of a respectable passenger station, so long held up to the promise of "next year", but broken to the expectation.

THE ILLNESS OF CORNELIA CALF

Cornelia Calf one summer day began a noisy bawl:
Said she, "I'm so uncomfortable, I don't feel well at all!
I am so stuffy in the head that I can scarcely speak,
And what is harder still to bear, my eyes and nose both leak."

Her mother said in great alarm, "I'll go for Doctor Sheep,
And while I'm gone, Cornelia, dear, do try to get some sleep!"
She hurried to the doctor's home and soon came back again
With wise old Doctor Sheep, who said, "My child, where is the pain?"

Cornelia said, "It's it by eyes; it's also it by nose."
(She spoke like that because her head was stuffy, I suppose.)
Then Doctor Sheep said right away, "I know what's wrong with her,
She has been playing in the field and caught the hay-fever."

Said he to Mrs. Cow, "The child will have to go away
To some place where she will not see a single bit of hay."
"Where that will be," moaned Mrs. Cow, "I really do not know."
"The sea shore," said old Doctor Sheep, "is just where she should go."

Good Mrs. Cow was quite alarmed; "We'll go at once," said she,
"But will you tell me, Dr. Sheep, where is the nearest sea?"
"I'm not quite sure," said Doctor Sheep, "I'll have to look around;
But I am sure some handy sea can easily be found."

"I'll let you know this afternoon just what I've learned," said he,
"And in the meantime she must take a dose of cow-slip tea."
But Miss Cornelia cried and howled more loudly than before;
"I will not go one single step to any old sea-shore!"

They tried to tell Cornelia that the sea-shore would be grand;
Said she, "There's not a blade of grass and I can't live on sand."
And though they coaxed and coaxed she said, "It is no use to bother."

Then all at once Cornelia Calf commenced to sneeze and sneeze:
I do not know how true it is, but this is what folks say:
By evening Miss Cornelia Calf had sneezed herself away;
Which goes to show it mostly pays to listen to advice,
And if you have a doubt of this just try it once or twice.

Plan To Increase Number Of Employees

The following from the Plain Daily News will be of interest here as T. M. Gynan, formerly held the position of quality superintendent in the plant of the Selby Shoe Company:

"Five hundred operatives will be employed at the Selby-Schwab shoe factory within two months—more than three times as many as are now on the pay roll, according to T. M. Gynan, superintendent. Since January 1, the factory's output has been increased to 700 pairs of shoes daily. One hundred and fifty hands are now employed. Instead of making a cheap grade of women's shoes, the factory is now building expensive feminine footwear, the demand for which has far surpassed expectations."

"The shoes we are making now are of the high grade, fancy topped gaiter effects," said Mr. Gynan. "These are made with cloth tops, white, russet, and other pretty effects, and are meeting with an unequalled demand. We have calls for many more shoes than we are able to produce. The latest model which has been produced at the factory is an inside lace shoe for women, which was greatly admired at the fashion show in Chicago and which had been taken up by large firms who are advertising them extensively and are selling thousands of pairs."

During the vacation at the holiday season a large amount of new machinery was installed at the factory for the special purpose of manufacturing these fancy shoes. Men are still at work putting up machinery."

ACID IN STOMACH SOURS THE FOOD

Says Excess of Hydrochloric Acid is Cause of Indigestion.

A well-known authority states that stomach trouble and indigestion is nearly always due to acidity—acid stomach—and not, as most folks believe, from a lack of digestive juices. He states that an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach retards digestion and starts food fermentation, then our meals sour like garbage in a can, forming acid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon. We then get that heavy, lumpy feeling in the chest, we eructate sour food, belch gas or have heartburn, flatulence, water-brush or mautics.

He tells us to try aside all digestive aids and instead get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast while it is effervescent, and furthermore, to continue this for one week. While side follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass start the liver, stimulate the kidney and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and is made from the salts of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and sodium phosphate. This harmless salts is used by thousands of people for stomach trouble with excellent results.

TO INVESTIGATE CAUSE OF LAYLAND MINE DISASTER IN WHICH 109 LOST LIVES

Charleston, W. V., March 10.—A thorough investigation into the cause of the explosion in the Layland mine of the New River and Pocahontas Consolidated Coal company from which 109 bodies have been recovered and 44 miners rescued alive will be made by the state department of mines. According to Chief Earl Henry, of the department, the mine will probably be sufficiently cleared of gas of state and rock by Monday to permit mining experts to carefully examine the workings and determine the original cause. The coroner's jury will likely begin next Wednesday.

Chief Henry praised the rescuers for their work and declared that the miners rescued alive on Sunday could not have survived ten hours longer had they not been discovered at that time.

BOY AGAIN MISSING

Russell Howe, the 8-year-old Kenyon street boy afflicted with "wanderlust" and who disappeared again Tuesday, was located at No. 3027 Gallia street early Wednesday morning. The boy had no explanation to give at his absence from home save that he had spent the greater part of Tuesday wandering around in the hills north of Gallia pike. The boy's father, Simon Howe, a steelworker and the stepmother, are convinced that the boy is not altogether right mentally and expect to consult Judge T. O. Bentley relative to placing him in some institution.

Hounds Trailed Lou Instead Of Thieves

Lou Gilgen, of the liquor firm of Gilgen & Balmert, discovered early Wednesday morning that four of his best Plymouth rock lions had been stolen some time during the night. Lou notified the police and arranged to have Roy Lyon's bloodhound trail the thieves. It soon was evident that Lou himself had spoiled the trail by having entered and walked around the coop and in making a trip down the alley in search of the missing fowls. The bloodhound went over the entire course taken by him, but failed to strike the scent of the robbers.

MAYOR ORDERS REMOVAL OF VEHICLES

The mayor has directed the chief of police to have the patrolmen and the practice of automobile dealers and heavy men storing vehicles on crowded thoroughfares along street car lines.

Monroe & Son Company, suggesting that as weather conditions are about right that they make preparations to begin excavating and start active work on the Gallia pike paving so that the thoroughfare be opened to traffic on its entire surface as soon as possible.

Literary Program Very Pleasing

The best and most enjoyable literary program given by the high school students was the one presented Tuesday evening in the high school auditorium before a capacity audience. The regular monthly literary programs were started several months ago, and interest in the free entertainment has rapidly grown among the students who are entering into the work heartily.

The two plays reproduced on Tuesday evening highly pleased the large crowd. The first half of the program was a parody on "The Merchant of Venice" written by Hayward Anderson and presented by four seniors, Chas. Beatty, Vance Morris, Hayward Anderson and Anna Tracy. The playlet excited much mirth. Anderson played his part like an opera star. Beatty was extra fine and Morris was the player in the light place in handing out the college language. Anna Tracy played her part in brilliant fashion. The concluding half of the program was a play in three acts, students of the sophomore class presenting a most beautifully costumed rendition of "The Last of the Mohicans." To Orville McCall goes the most of the credit for the success of the program.

EARLY EXPERIENCES OF "GRAND PA" RIPLEY RECALLED BY E. J. HAYNES

Mr. E. J. Haynes, of Chillicothe, O., who with Mrs. Haynes is visiting at the Nichols home, 702 Washington street, tells how "Grand Pa" Ripley enjoyed visiting incidents of his early career. As a barefooted boy he applied for a position on one of the steamers plying between this city and New Orleans. It was hard work. After the arrival in New Orleans the boats at that time waited sometimes a month or longer for return lading.

While strolling around the city the boy purchased a Panama hat for his father and a large blue bandana handkerchief for his mother.

Wrapping the handkerchief around the hat he placed the package in what he supposed was a safe place, upon the lower deck of the steamer. Before starting on the return trip the handkerchief was stolen leaving the hat undisturbed. The boy was greatly grieved over the loss of the handkerchief as he loved his mother dearly and it was intended by him to surprise his mother with the gift as it was the custom for them to be worn at that time. The handkerchiefs were as large as a counterpane. The purchase of the articles took all of his funds. He worked his return passage on the same boat. Upon his arrival at Portsmouth he got a job as milk driver on the Ohio canal.

In a short time he returned to his first love, the river, and worked in every capacity, from a roustabout and reached the height of his ambition, a captainship, and for nearly a half of a century plied in that capacity between this city and New Orleans and finally built and owned the steamer Jim Hiske, Jr. Charitable, kind hearted, he was loved by all and after a long eventful career, fell into that dreamless sleep that kisses down the eyelids still. The message his daughter sends will be dear to his heart as one of his lovable traits was charity.

Lines written by Mrs. Marie Nichols upon the 91st birthday anniversary of her father, Capt. W. P. Ripley:

Happy birthday to thee in realms above,
In God's abode where all is love;
Ere long I'm coming, list for my tread,
I've walked carefully in the path you led.
Faith, Hope and Charity, flowers of good deed I send,
Roses rare, Lily's fair, nay, more my heart's key,
That you may see God's name inscribed there.

The flowers I culled for thee,
The roots I've not touched, you see.
They are God's own blooming near his throne,
Of perennial bloom, sending forth sweetest perfume:
Each bud a prayer sprayed by heavenly dew,
Emblems of the tears I've shed for you.
I'll brush the tears away and smile,
Trusting you are with God all the while.

Around and around in a gay whirl madly pursuing Pleasure! A path strewn with flipperies now and delightful follies dear to Youth. But all too soon a treadmill to be walked with dragging footsteps—those pitiful heralds of an aching heart!

IN MEMORY OF "BUSTER"

In memory of "Buster", the faithful day and daily companion of Tom Burt, the genial express driver of the Southern Express Co. "Buster" recently met his death beneath the wheels of an auto truck and his untimely demise is keenly felt by the employees of the express office and the patrons of the same.

Poor Buster's dead! His soul has crossed the river,
In ecstasy his voice is heard no more;
He's joined his friends with whom he'll dwell forever
On Dogland shore.

A dog like you remains a joy forever,
Now hallowed be the spot that holds thy dust;
This epitaph is thine: "Old Buster never betrayed a trust."

With fortitude you risked the butcher's grinder
Which of your mortal frame could sausage make,
The sight of "Werner" made your soul the kinder
For duty's sake.

Although you're dead, your life has left a message
To friends who o'er your man-

Roof Fire
